Want To Be A Writer Then Do It Properly:

Want to Be a Writer? Albert Jack, 2013-04-03 Over the years I have often been asked by unpublished writers how they should go about finding a publisher I am also often asked the question what should I write about And whilst that is irritating the chief reason being That s your job it is still a good question The main thing a writer has to do is to have the idea in the first place The answer of course is something that other people your readers will want to buy and then read and there are very simple ways to find out what that might be To start with a writer has to consider their reader and what interests them Can you come up with a book idea that will appeal to an 80 year old lady a fifteen year old boy a 25 year old girl and a middle aged man all at the same time Because that is what you need to do find as wide an audience as possible Books about left handed Norwegian badminton players will not enjoy big sales with apologies to them A couple of years ago I was in a small artistic town in South Africa and found myself at a table of half a dozen would be writers who were all asking me those same questions and more And I had the answers because there are professional techniques and habits that a writer must adopt and over the years it seems I have adopted them possibly without realising it Somebody then said you should be teaching this We don t know any of this no wonder I can t get a reply from a publisher And this made me stop to think for a while He was right they didn t know any of this but it was actually all quite simple He was just doing all the wrong things No wonder he couldn t get a reply from a publisher indeed I thought to myself if that is how he is approaching them And with that subject matter Lesson number one Nobody is really interested in your own life story Unless you are Nelson Mandela and you can trust me on this one you are not So I began to explain how to find an idea that a top publisher might be interested in commissioning A subject they would see they could sell to as many people as possible The questions kept coming and I began to start thinking that maybe I should offer a professional writer s workshop and start sharing all this inside knowledge with as many people as possible But one thing prevented me It was fear I was afraid that no one would turn up or be interested in what I had to say The same thing that most writers are afraid of So I asked my long time friend and illustrator Ama Page who is usually quite blunt with her advice What would you say if I set up a writer s workshop and started sharing the tips techniques and habits I have picked up over the years I expected her to say something along the lines of don t you think that s a bit self indulgent or presumptuous Or perhaps hark at you Mr Know It All but instead she replied What would I say It s about bloody time too is what I would say That took me by surprise Are you sure I said would anybody really turn up They better do she told me After all you know how it all works And I suppose I do After ten years of working with Random House Harper Collins and for the larger part Penguin Books I must have picked up something along the way So I had been firmly encouraged to share my experiences as a professional writer with those who would like to also follow that particular path Now with five successful workshops behind me I have also been encouraged by Kindle Direct Publishing to share those experiences on a much wider scale by releasing what are essentially the workshop notes that I give to all my writers as I like to call them in the form of this
