A MAN

WAITING FOR LEFTY

As the curtain goes up we see a bare stage. On it are sitting six or seven men in a semi-circle. Lolling against the proscenium down left is a young man chewing a toothpick; a gunman. A fat man of porcine appearance is talking directly to the audience. In other words he is the head of a union and the men ranged behind him are a committee of workers. They are now seated in interesting different attitudes and present a wide diversity of type, as we shall soon see. The fat man is hot and heavy under the collar, near the end of a long talk, but not too hot: he is well fed and confident. His name is MARK PAT.

PAT: You're so wrong I ain't laughing. Any guy with eyes to read knows it. Look at the textile strike—out like lions and in like lambs. Take the San Francisco tie-up—starvation and broken heads. The steel boys wanted to walk out too, but they changed their minds. It's the trend of the times, that's what it is. All we workers got a good man behind us now. He's top man of the country—looking out for our interests—the man in the White House is the one I'm referin' to. That's why the times ain't ripe for a strike. He's working day and night—
BOB (from the audience): For what? (The audience also himself.)
PAT: For you! The records prove it. If this was the Hoover regime, would I say don't go out, boys? Not on your tin-type! But things is different now. You read the papers as well as me. You know it. And that's why I'm against the strike. Because we gotta stand behind the man who's standin' behind us! The whole country—
ANOTHER MAN: Is on the blink! (The audience looks on.)

Waiting For Lefty Script:

Waiting for Lefty Clifford Odets, 1962 THE STORY The action of the play is comprised of a series of varied imaginatively conceived episodes which blend into a powerful and stirring mosaic The opening scene is a hiring hall where a union leader obviously in the pay of the bosses is trying to convince a committee of workers who are waiting for their leader Lefty to arrive not to strike This is followed by a moving confrontation between a discouraged taxi driver who cannot earn enough to live on and his angry wife who wants him to show some backbone and stand up to his employer a revealing scene between a scheming boss and the young worker who refuses to spy on his fellow employees a sad funny episode centering on a young cabbie and his would be bride who lack the wherewithal to get married a disturbing scene involving a senior doctor and the underpaid young intern a labor activist whom the doctor has been ordered to discharge and finally a return to the union hall where the workers learning that Lefty has been gunned down by the powers that be resolve at last to stand up for their rights and to strike and to stay off their jobs until their grievances are finally heard and acted upon by those who have so cynically exploited and misused them Hearings United States.
