Wintergreen Listening To The Lands Heart:

The Norton Book of Nature Writing Robert Finch, John Elder, 1990 W W Norton is pleased to announce that The Norton Book of Nature Writing is now available in a paperback college edition Wintergreen Robert Michael Pyle, 1997-07-01 Wintergreen Robert Michael Pyle, 2015-10-01 In the Willapa Hills of southwest Washington both the human community and the forest community are threatened with extinction Virtually every acre of the hills has been logged often repeatedly in the past hundred years endangering both the land and the people leaving dying towns as well as a devastated ecosystem Weaving vivid portraits of the place and its inhabitants animal plant and human with the story of his own love affair with the hills Robert Michael Pyle has written a book so even handed in its passion that it has been celebrated by those who make their living with a chain saw as well as by environmentalists As he writes My sympathies lie with the people and the woods but not with the companies that have used them both with equal disregard In his vivid portrayal of the land plants people and animals of the Willapa Hills of Washington State Bob Pyle makes the modest patch of land he writes about a metaphor for the world

All Creation is Groaning Carol J. Dempsey, Russell A. Butkus, 2015-03-06 This multi academic perspective on contemporary environmental issues reminds us of our oneness with the natural world and what that calls us to as moral creatures Fashioned as a series of stories based on the model of biblical narrative these seemingly multivalent voices and perspectives are joined together with biblical stories references and theological reflection to create in All Creation Is Groaning a seamless story that is both provocative and revelatory All Creation Is Groaning provides a clear Vision of living life in a sacred universe This Vision is linked to the biblical Vision of justice and righteousness for all of creation and humankind s responsibility to hasten the Vision through a call to ethical practice Critical and hermeneutical this book reflects an interdisciplinary approach so as to build bridges of understanding between the Bible and contemporary disciplines Chapters are Stories from the Heart New Ways of Knowing and Being Known An Islamic Perspective on the Environment Christian Values Technology and the Environment Crisis Feeding the Hungry and Protecting the Environment Mental Cartography in a Time of Environmental Crisis Toward an Understanding of International Geopolitics and the Environment Sustainability An Eco Theological Analysis The Stewardship of Natural and Human Resources Development of Environmental Responsibility in Children An Ecological View of Elders and Their Families Needs for the Twenty First Century Symphonies of Nature Creation and Re creation A Sense of Place and Hope Amidst Crisis A Prophetic Vision of Cosmic Redemption

On Sacred Ground Nicholas O'Connell, 2011-10-01 On Sacred Ground explores the literature of the Northwest the area that extends from the Pacific Ocean to the Rocky Mountains and from the forty ninth parallel to the Siskiyou Mountains The Northwest exhibits astonishing geographical diversity and yet the entire bioregion shares a similarity of climate flora and fauna For Nicholas O Connell the effects of nature on everyday Northwest life carry over to the region s literature Although Northwest writers address a number of subjects the relationship between people and place proves the dominant one and that has been true since the first tribes settled the region and began telling stories about it thousands of years ago. Indeed, it is the common thread linking Chief Seattle to Theodore Roethke, N. Scott Momaday, Ursula K. Le Guin, Joaquin Miller to Ivan Doig, Marilynne Robinson to Jack London, Betty MacDonald to Gary Snyder. Tracing the history of Pacific Northwest literary works from Native American myths to the accounts of explorers and settlers, the effusions of the romantics, the sharply etched stories of the realists, the mystic visions of Northwest poets and the contemporary explosion of Northwest poetry and prose, O'Connell shows how the most important contribution of Northwest writers to American literature is their articulation of a more spiritual human relationship with landscape. Pacific Northwest writers and storytellers see the Northwest not just as a source of material wealth but as a spiritual homeland, a place to lead a rich and fulfilling life within the whole context of creation. And just as the relationship between people and place serves as the unifying feature of Northwest literature, so also does literature itself possess a perhaps unique ability to transform a landscape into a sacred place.

Defending Wild Washington Edward A. Whitesell, 2004 Inspiring the next generation How to lead an effective grassroots environmental campaign in Washington state Nature's Fading Chorus Gordon Miller, 2000-05 Naturalists in every age have been intrigued by frogs, toads, and salamanders. They have seen these amphibians in a variety of guises: as beings with magical powers or implicit moral lessons; as the products of spontaneous generation; as heralds of the seasons; as evidence of evolution; or material for biological experiments; or most recently, as ecological barometers for the biosphere. Nature's Fading Chorus presents an anthology of writings on amphibians drawn from the entire Western natural history tradition, beginning with Aristotle's Inquiry Concerning Animals written in the fourth century B.C.E. and continuing through recent scientific accounts of the relatively sudden and alarming global declines and deformities in amphibian species. The offerings not only reveal much about amphibian life but also provide fascinating insight into the worldviews of the many writers, scientists, and naturalists who have delved into the subject. The book is divided into five sections. The first three offer selections from the most influential contributors to the Western canon of natural history writing and contain classic texts that illustrate central themes in the changing understanding of amphibians and of the natural world. The fourth section offers engaging essays by leading twentieth-century nature writers that portray a variety of amphibians in diverse terrains. Part five covers the various aspects of and research on the problem of amphibian declines and deformities. Featured are more than thirty-five pieces, including works from Pliny the Elder, Gilbert White, William Bartram, Henry David Thoreau, Charles Darwin, T.H. Huxley, Loren Eiseley, Stephen Jay Gould, George Orwell, Annie Dillard, Terry Tempest Williams, and many others. Arranged chronologically, the writings provide an intriguing look at the ways in which humankind's understanding of its place in nature has changed through the course of Western history and of the niche amphibians have occupied in that evolution.

Nature's Writers Donald S. Clark, 2024-09-03 A photographic celebration of the landscapes that have influenced some of America's most important nature writers from John Muir to Terry Tempest

Williams to Barbara Kingsolver Since 2019 Donald S Clark has documented the places that have been instrumental in influencing the lives and words of both historic and contemporary nature and environmental writers throughout the United States While we have always felt their passionate connection to their own environments no book has ever made this visual connection between writers and their land before the relationship between prose and place Featuring more than 40 of America s most important writers the content is as far reaching as America itself from sea to shining sea forest to prairie and mountain to coastline Accompanying each gallery of stunning photography is a selected excerpt by the writer about their land With the increasingly noticeable effects of climate change the significance of these writers and their personal connections to the environment is even more timely This unique and compelling story of the land and how it has inspired some of our greatest poets and authors will make a wonderful gift for budding environmentalists students of nature writing or anyone interested in conservation

At Home on the Earth David Landis Barnhill, 1999-08-05 The physical earth is clearly under unprecedented siege heated toxified scraped But almost as if they were antibodies the finest nature writers of any era have come forward to help in the fight This anthology collects many of the most important at their most eloquent May it ring and echo and do some good Bill McKibben author of The End of Nature This is a stunning collection of vivid writing about landscapes and the people who inhabit them The diverse narratives gathered here do more than describe hawks diving and twigs snapping although the book has its share of moving accounts of the natural world A concern to live responsibly in nature runs through this evocative anthology like a subterranean stream and that moral impulse together with the lively prose makes this the best collection of nature writing I ve seen Thomas A Tweed editor of Retelling U S Religious History
