Women Autobiography Theory Women Autobiography Theory:

Women, Autobiography, Theory Sidonie Smith, Julia Watson, 1998 The first comprehensive guide to the burgeoning field of women's autobiography Essays from 39 prominent critics and writers explore narratives across the centuries and from around the globe A list of more than 200 women's autobiographies and a comprehensive bibliography provide invaluable information for scholars teachers and readers Women, Autobiography, Theory Julia Watson, Sidonie Smith, 1998-12-01

Autobiographics Leigh Gilmore, 1994 In the first comprehensive feminist critique of autobiography as a genre Leigh Gilmore incorporates writings that have not up to now been considered part of the autobiographical tradition Offering subtle and perceptive readings of a wide variety of texts from the confessions of medieval mystics to contemporary works by Chicana and lesbian writers she identifies an innovative practice of autobiographics which covers the entire spectrum of women's self representation Women's Lives/Women's Times Trev Lynn Broughton, Linda Anderson, Linda R.

Anderson, 1997-05-23 Points to the many ways in which the study of autobiography can contribute to the theory practice and politics of women's studies as curriculum and to feminist theory more generally The Private Self Shari Benstock, 1988 This collection of twelve essays discusses the principles and practices of women's autobiographical writing in the United States England and France from the eighteenth to the twentieth centuries Employing feminist and poststructuralist methodologies t Women and Autobiography Martine Watson Brownley, Allison B. Kimmich, 1999 An overview of women's autobiography providing historical background and contemporary criticism along with selections from a range of autobiographies by women It seeks to provide a broad introduction to the major questions dominating autobiographical scholarship today

Women in Transition Maria-José Blanco, Claire Williams, 2021-05-06 This volume brings together scholars students and writers as well as artists from around the world By choosing a thematic focus on transition in women's lives we present research on women who have crossed biological geopolitical and political borders as well as emotional sexual cultural and linguistic boundaries The international approach brings together different cultures and genres in order to emphasize the links and connections that bind women together rather than those which separate them The chapters consider the ways in which the changes and transitions women undergo influence the world we live in We are particularly interested in the idea of crossing borders and how this influences identity and belonging and the theme of crossing boundaries in the context of motherhood as well as sexual orientation The topic is timely given the waves of migration all around the world in recent times The contributors deal with issues central to contemporary life such as gender equality and women's empowerment as well as understanding women's identities and being sensitive to fluid concepts of gender and sexuality

Women in Rock Memoirs Cristina Garrigós, Marika Ahonen, 2023 Women in Rock Memoirs vindicates the role of women in rock music The chapters examine memoirs written by women in rock from 2010 onwards to explore how the artists narrate their life experiences and difficulties they had to overcome not only as musicians but as women The book includes memoirs written by both well known and lesser known artists and artists from both inside and outside of the Anglo American sphere. The essays by scholars from different research areas and countries around the world are divided into three parts according to the overall themes: Memory, Trauma, and Writing; Authenticity, Sexuality, and Sexism; and Aging, Performance, and the Image. They explore the dynamics of memoir as a genre by discussing the similarities and differences between the women in rock and the choices they have made when writing their books. As a whole, they help form a better understanding of today's possibilities and future challenges for women in rock music.

In the Presence of Audience Deborah Martinson, 2003

Martinson examines the diaries of Virginia Woolf, Katherine Mansfield, Violet Hunt, and Doris Lessing's fictional character Anna Wulf. She argues that these diaries and others like them are not entirely private writings but that their authors wrote them knowing they would be read. She argues that the audience is the author's male lover or husband and describes how knowledge of this audience affects the language and content in each diary. She argues that this audience enforces a certain male censorship which changes the shape of the revelations and of the writer herself.

Consuming Autobiographies Claire Boyle, 2007

Since 1975, French literary writing has been marked by an autobiographical turn which has seen authors increasingly often tap into the vein of what the French term criture de soi. This coincides paradoxically with the death of autobiography as these authors self-consciously distance themselves and their writings from conventional autobiography, founding a nouvelle autobiographie where the very possibility of autobiographical expression is questioned. In the first book-length study in English to address this phenomenon, Claire Boyle sheds a new light on this hostility toward autobiography through a series of ground-breaking studies of estrangement in autobiographical works by major post-war authors: Nathalie Sarraute, Georges Perec, Jean Genet, and Hélène Cixous. She identifies autobiography as a site of conflict between writer and reader as authors struggle to assert the unknowableness of their identity in the face of a readership resolutely desiring privileged knowledge. Autobiography emerges as a deeply troubling genre for authors with the reader as an antagonistic consumer of the autobiographical self.
