World Bank Group Assistance to Low-Income Fragile and Conflict-Affected States The World Bank,2015-05-13
Fragile and conflict affected states FCS have become an important focus of World Bank Group assistance in recent years as recognition of the linkages between fragility conflict violence and poverty has grown Addressing issues of recurring conflict and political violence and helping build legitimate and accountable state institutions are central to the Bank Group s poverty reduction mission This evaluation assesses the relevance and effectiveness of World Bank Group country strategies and assistance programs to FCS The operationalization of the World Development Report 2011 Conflict Security and Development 2011 WDR is also assessed to see how the framework has been reflected in subsequent analytical work country assistance strategies and the assistance programs The evaluation framework was derived from the concepts and priorities articulated in recent WDRs policy papers and progress reports issued by Bank Group management to draw lessons from FCS The framework is organized around the three major themes emerging from the 2011 WDR building state capacity building capacity of citizens and promoting inclusive growth and jobs The evaluation focuses on International Development Association IDA only countries which are deemed to have certain characteristics such as very low average income and no access to private finance making them eligible for special finance tools and programs As the benchmark for measuring results Bank Group performance is evaluated in 33 fragile and conflict affected states against that of 31 IDA only countries that have never been on the FCS list Six new country case studies analyses of Bank Group portfolios human resources and budget data secondary analysis of IEG evaluations background studies including those on aid flows gender private sector development and jobs and surveys of Bank Group staffs and stakeholders are also included in the evaluation Islamic Republic of Afghanistan International Monetary Fund. Research Dept.,2016-02-11 The Ex Post Assessment aims to provide a frank review of progress during the 2006 and 2011 programs and a forward looking assessment that takes into account lessons learned It begins by providing the background and context for the two programs It then discusses their overall objectives how the programs were designed to achieve these objectives and program performance After outlining the key issues it concludes with some lessons including for Afghanistan s future engagement with the IMF Since late 2001 after NATO forces toppled the Taliban the country received unprecedented support from the donor community in the context of two IMF supported programs

Doing Business 2011 World Bank,2010-11-03 Eighth in a series of annual reports comparing business regulations in 183 economies Doing Business 2011 measures regulations affecting 10 areas of everyday business activity starting a business dealing with construction permits employing workers registering property getting credit protecting investors paying taxes trading across borders enforcing contracts and closing a business The report updates all 10 sets of indicators ranks countries on their overall ease of doing business and analyzes reforms to business regulation identifying which countries are improving strengthening their business environment the most and which ones slipped Doing

Business 2011 includes results on the ongoing research in the area of getting electricity and illustrates how reforms in business regulations can translate into better outcomes for domestic entrepreneurs and the wider economy It also focuses on how women in particular are affected by complex business regulations Catalog of Publications World Bank Group,2000

Complete current catalog of all print and online journals and monographs IMF and Fragile States International Monetary Fund. Independent Evaluation Office,2018-04-13 This evaluation assesses the IMF s work on countries in fragile and conflict affected situations FCS addressing both i its engagement through surveillance lending and capacity development and ii the frameworks and procedures for its engagement It finds that the IMF has provided unique and essential services to FCS to restore macroeconomic stability and rebuild core macroeconomic institutions as prerequisites for state building playing a role in which no other institution can take its place In this critical role it is broadly acknowledged to have had a high impact While the IMF has provided relatively little direct financing it has catalyzed donor support through its assessment of a country s economic policies and prospects Notwithstanding this positive assessment the IMF s overall approach to its FCS work seems to have been conflicted Not only has it failed consistently to make hard choices necessary to achieve full impact from its engagement in countries where success requires patient and dedicated attention over the long haul but past efforts have not been sufficiently bold or adequately sustained and the staff has tended to revert to treating fragile states using IMF wide norms rather than as countries needing special attention The report proposes six recommendations to improve the effectiveness of the IMF s FCS work i to issue a statement of high level commitment to FCS work for IMFC endorsement ii to create an effective institutional mechanism with the mandate and authority to coordinate and champion such work iii to develop comprehensive strategies for individual FCS iv to adapt its lending toolkit to deliver more sustained financial support to FCS v to take practical steps to increase the impact of its capacity development support to FCS and vi to take steps to incentivize high quality and experienced staff to work on individual FCS and find pragmatic ways of increasing field presence in high risk locations Conflict Resolution in the Twenty-first Century Jacob Bercovitch,Richard Dean Wells Jackson,2009-08-04 In the past arbitration direct bargaining the use of intermediaries and deference to international institutions were relatively successful tools for managing interstate conflict In the face of terrorism intrastate wars and the multitude of other threats in the post Cold War era however the conflict resolution tool kit must include preventive diplomacy humanitarian intervention regional task sharing and truth commissions Here Jacob Bercovitch and Richard Jackson two internationally recognized experts systematically examine each one of these conflict resolution tools and describe how it works and in what conflict situations it is most likely to be effective Conflict Resolution in the Twenty first Century is not only an essential introduction for students and scholars it is a must have guide for the men and women entrusted with creating stability and security in our changing world Cover illustration iStockphoto com Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists ,1970-06 The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists is the premier public resource on scientific and

Congress,2003 World Bank Annual Report World Bank,2006 Enhancing financiers' accountability for the social and environmental impacts of biofuels Jan Willem van Gelder,Denise Kouwenhoven,2011-06-10 This report summarises 20 case studies on investments in the production of biofuel and the feedstocks used for biofuel palm oil soybeans sugarcane and jatropha in forest rich countries in Africa Asia and Latin America The investments were financed by private entrepreneurs public financing and private financial institutions A large number of private financial institutions such as banks asset managers and pension funds were investing most of which are located outside the country where the investment took place Dozens of public financial institutions many of which are foreign play a significant role Since the availability of finance is a crucial precondition for the further growth of the biofuel sector these actors could play an important role in leveraging more sustainability in the sector However our findings suggest that most investors are not yet effectively addressing key environmental and social sustainability challenges either because they lack sustainability policies or because their policies are of insufficient quality Realising the potential influence of investors on minimising the negative social and environmental costs associated with feedstock expansion and biofuel production requires improved dissemination of high quality governance instruments Whilst private and public investors could develop and adopt better policies voluntarily we also discuss regulatory options available to governments in production and consumption countries These options could motivate or assist private financial institutions in developing and applying sound responsible financing policies
