Thelma And Louise Bfi Modern Classics:

Thelma & Louise Marita Sturken, 2000 Virgin Film: Ridley Scott James Clarke, 2012-04-24 This indispensable guide provides a thorough chronological examination of Ridley Scott's directorial career. All of Scott's films are included along with information on his frequent collaborators, his thoughts on his own films, and a section on his unrealised projects. This is the essential reference guide to one of mainstream cinema's most diverse directors. Crash Cinema Will Godfrey, Jill Good, Mark Goodall, 2009-10-02 Crash Cinema Representation in Film is a collection of essays that emerged from Crash Cinema, an annual symposium that is an integral part of the Bradford Film Festival at the National Media Museum, UK. The symposium was created by academics and curators who share the common aim of promoting the importance of film both as an academic study and for critical public appreciation. Films can be enjoyed as entertainment; they can educate and inform, and they can excite and disturb. Films are powerful pieces of culture. The films that we now consume do more than simply amuse or horrify. Cinema not only thrills us but also communicates to us about ourselves, and in the twentieth and twenty-first century, moving images have become the dominant form of this communication. Bombarded by images, we inhabit a media-intensive world in which every aspect of life is pervaded by visual signs. In these circumstances, it becomes increasingly significant to engage with the politics of representation. Through this vital process, we can acknowledge that all cultural forms, whether in high art or the mass media, are in the broadest sense political. We can also appreciate that it is a complex agenda of interests that shapes specific ideological meanings. Fulsomely equipped, we can apply this essential tool to the exciting task of decoding the political, social, and cultural meanings articulated through the making, promotion, and consumption of film. This book aims to offer an arena for the analysis of these representations. Representations cannot depict the truth, and the essays in this book do not claim to search for the truth. We ask whose truth is being represented, how it is represented, and why it is represented like that. We also ask how do representations tell us something about the culture within which they are created. Yet the essays in this volume are not stuck in the representational concerns of the past and try instead to uncover the power of cinema to shock and surprise, whether that be through visceral impact, subversive content, experiments with identity, or the exploration of the taboo. Representation, as defined by the eleven essays in this book, is a fluid and dynamic approach to the study of film. The study of film to which this book contributes some unique case studies is as popular as ever and has withstood growing challenge from the new media, such as CG Animations, the internet, and computer console and online gaming. This is because the pleasure of film is still the most humanistic, and because the sophistication of the representations offered by cinematic expression remain ever more complex and pleasurable to decipher. This book can therefore be read by any student, academic writer, or filmmaker hooked on these delights. Intersecting Film, Music, and Queerness Jack Curtis Dubowsky, 2016-04-08 Intersecting Film Music and Queerness uses musicology and queer theory to uncover meaning and message in canonical American cinema. This study considers how queer readings are reinforced or nuanced through analysis of musical score Taking a broad approach to queerness that questions heteronormative and homonormative patriarchal structures binary relationships gender assumptions and anxieties this book challenges existing interpretations of what is progressive and what is retrogressive in cinema Examined films include Bride of Frankenstein Louisiana Story Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer Blazing Saddles Edward Scissorhands Brokeback Mountain Boys Don't Cry Transamerica Thelma Louise Go Fish and The Living End with special attention given to films that subvert or complicate genre Music is analyzed with concern for composition intertextual references absolute musical structures song lyrics recording arrangement and performance issues This multidisciplinary work featuring groundbreaking research analysis and theory offers new close readings and a model for future scholarship

Women on Screen M. Waters, 2011-02-08 A timely intervention into debates on the representation of feminist and feminine identities in contemporary visual culture The essays in this collection interrogate how and why certain formulations of feminism and femininity are currently prevalent in mainstream cinema and television offering new insights into postfeminist media phenomena

Extra-Ordinary Men Nicola Rehling, 2010-06-21 Extra Ordinary Men analyzes popular cinematic representations of white heterosexual masculinity as the ordinary form of male identity one that enjoys considerable economic social political and representational strength Nicola Rehling argues that while this normative position affords white heterosexual masculinity ideological and political dominance such ordinariness also engenders the anxiety that it is a depthless vacuous and unstable identity At a time when the neutrality of white heterosexual masculinity has been challenged by identity politics this insightful volume offers lucid accounts of contemporary theoretical debates on masculinity in popular cinema and explores the strategies deployed in popular films to reassert white heterosexual male hegemony through detailed readings of films as diverse as Fight Club Boys Don't Cry and The Matrix Accessible to undergraduates but also of interest to film scholars the book makes a distinctive contribution to our understanding of the ways in which popular film helps construct and maintain many unexamined assumptions about masculinity gender race and sexuality
