Theory And Observation In Ancient And Medieval Astronomy:

Theory and Observation in Ancient and Medieval Astronomy Bernard R. Goldstein, 1985 Between Copernicus and Galileo James M. Lattis, 2010-12-15 Between Copernicus and Galileo is the story of Christoph Clavius the Jesuit astronomer and teacher whose work helped set the standards by which Galileo's famous claims appeared so radical and whose teachings guided the intellectual and scientific agenda of the Church in the central years of the Scientific Revolution. Though relatively unknown today, Clavius was enormously influential throughout Europe in the late sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries through his astronomy books, the standard texts used in many colleges and universities and the tools with which Descartes, Gassendi and Mersenne among many others learned their astronomy. James Lattis uses Clavius's own publications as well as archival materials to trace the central role Clavius played in integrating traditional Ptolemaic astronomy and Aristotelian natural philosophy into an orthodox cosmology. Although Clavius strongly resisted the new cosmologies of Copernicus and Tycho, Galileo's invention of the telescope ultimately eroded the Ptolemaic world view. By tracing Clavius's views from medieval cosmology to the seventeenth century, Lattis illuminates the conceptual shift from Ptolemaic to Copernican astronomy and the social, intellectual and theological impact of the Scientific Revolution. Studies on Gersonides Gad Freudenthal, 2023-11-27 R. Levi ben Gershon Gersonides 1288-1344 is one of the greatest and most original figures of Medieval Jewish thought. He wrote numerous works in philosophy, science and biblical exegesis. Some of his scientific works, most notably his highly innovative Astronomy, were translated from Hebrew into Latin and could thus reach non-Jewish scholars. The twelve studies collected in this bilingual volume (English and French in equal parts) offer for the first time a comprehensive overview and assessment of Gersonides' work in astronomy, mathematics, logic, natural science and psychology. Gersonides' contributions are analyzed within the context of contemporary philosophy and science in Hebrew, Arabic and Latin. New light is also shed on the reception of Gersonides' work within European science. The volume includes a very extensive bibliography of writings by and about Gersonides. From the contents: Part I Gersonides Astronomy Bernard R. Goldstein, Jos Luis Mancha, Jos Chabas, Henri Hugonnard Roche, Guy Beaujouan; Part II Gersonides Work in Mathematics Tony L. vy, Karine Chemla, Serge Pahaut; Part III Gersonides Science in Its Relations to His Philosophy and Theology Herbert A. Davidson, Tzvi Y. Langermann, Charles H. Manekin, Amos Funkenstein, Gad Freudenthal. Jewish Translation History Robert Singerman, 2002-11-29 A classified bibliographic resource for tracing the history of Jewish translation activity from the Middle Ages to the present day, providing the researcher with over a thousand entries devoted solely to the Jewish role in the east-to-west transmission of Greek and Arab learning and science into Latin or Hebrew. Other major sections extend the coverage to modern times, taking special note of the absorption of European literature into the Jewish cultural orbit via Hebrew, Yiddish or Judezmo translations, for instance, or the translation and reception of Jewish literature written in Jewish languages into other languages such as Arabic, English, French, German or Russian. This polyglot bibliography, the first of its kind contains over 2 600 entries is enhanced by a vast number of additional bibliographic notes leading to reviews and related resources and is accompanied by both an author and a subject index Knowledge in Translation Patrick Manning, Abigail Owen, 2018-09-19 In the second millennium CE long before English became the language of science in the twentieth century the act of translation was crucial for understanding and disseminating knowledge and information across linguistic and geographic boundaries This volume considers the complexities of knowledge exchange through the practice of translation over the course of a millennium across fields of knowledge cartography health and medicine material construction astronomy and a wide geographical range from Eurasia to Africa and the Americas Contributors literate in Arabic Catalan Chinese Greek Hebrew Italian Japanese Latin Minnan Ottoman and Persian explore the history of science in the context of world and global history investigating global patterns and implications in a multilingual and increasingly interconnected world Chapters reveal cosmopolitan networks of shared practice and knowledge about the natural world from 1000 to 1800 CE emphasizing both evolving scientific exchange and the emergence of innovative science By unraveling the role of translation in cross cultural communication Knowledge in Translation highlights key moments of transmission insight and critical interpretation across linguistic and faith communities Archaeoastronomy ,1985 The Torah U-madda Journal ,1997 2007, 卷一 卷二 卷三 卷四 卷五 The Wars of the Lord: bk. 5.
