Levinas and the Other in Psychotherapy and Counselling Del Loewenthal, 2022-11-28 For Emmanuel Levinas the danger of Western thought is that if we start with ourselves we end with ourselves Psychotherapy and counselling would be for the sole purpose of strengthening self initiated and self directed fulfilment resulting in individual and societal forms of totalitarianism Levinas suggests that ethics should be about putting the Other first but not in some fundamentalist Christian sense of the self choosing to give one s life for others The origin of authentic ethical behaviour is not from the self but from the Other Levinas offers us a fundamental shift in our thinking about therapeutic practices His writings call on us to have an ethical responsibility in the very way we practice therapy This is with all the complexities of negotiating from nearness and distance involvement and boundaries and how we view ourselves in attempting to do this Levinas inspires us towards ontological epistemological and methodological shifts The attempt to put the Other first can significantly change our notion of being It can help us be taken away from the dangers of a therapy based on ego psychology which seems to permeate so much of our therapies whether classified as humanistic psychoanalytic behavioural or existential All except the Introduction and two of the chapters were originally published in the European Journal of Psychotherapy and Counselling

Person-Centred Therapy Keith Tudor, Mike Worrall, 2006-09-27 The person centred approach is one of the most popular enduring and respected approaches to psychotherapy and counselling Person Centred Therapy returns to its original

Patterns in Interpersonal

Interactions Karl Tomm, Sally St. George, Dan Wulff, Tom Strong, 2014-05-16 In this book we present a comprehensive view of a systemic approach to working with families initiated by Karl Tomm more than two decades ago at the Calgary Family Therapy Centre in Canada The contributors of this edited book articulate the IPscope framework as it was originally designed and its evolution over time We invite you experienced professionals and new family therapists to join with us to explore some of the mysteries of human relationships While the focus on our explorations revolves around clinical mental health problems and initiatives towards solutions the concepts are applicable in many domains of daily life They highlight the ways in which we as persons invite each other into recurrent patterns of interaction that generate and maintain some stability in our continuously changing relationships The stabilities arise when our invitations become coupled and can be characterized as mutual yet they always remain transient What is of major significance is that these transient relational stabilities can have major positive or negative effects in our lives Consequently we could all potentially benefit from greater awareness of the nature of these patterns how particular patterns arise and how we might be able to influence them Medicalizing Counselling Tom Strong,2017-09-18 This book discusses how counselling a profession known for diverse and innovative practices has recently been influenced by scientific marketplace and administrative developments corresponding with a medicalized focus on psychiatric diagnoses and related evidence based treatments Tensions associated with this medicalized focus refer to competing logics and accountabilities regarding how to understand and address concerns brought to counselling Tom Strong reviews such tensions as they relate to counsellors approaches to practice experienced as incompatible with a medicalized approach The role of media and technology therapy culture and counsellor education are examined with respect to medicalizing tensions that professionals and clients of counselling increasingly face The book will interest readers who share concerns regarding the potential for a mental health monoculture grounded in the diagnose and treatment logic of medicalized counselling New Developments in Expressive Arts Therapy Stephen K.
