The Zen Of Empirical Research Quantitative Methods In Communication:

The Zen of Empirical Research William D. Richards,1998 The Zen of Empirical Research by Dr William D Richards is a friendly accessible introduction to quantitative research methods and statistics for students especially for those with an arts background or limited mathematical experience Developed through classroom use and student input this text is above all a student s text book Its unique first person conversational approach informal humor and every day examples make abstract concepts clear and statistics fun The emphasis is always on understanding the logic behind statistics rather than on math formulae or rote problem solving which ensures that students are able to apply the skills they ve learned to answer real research problems American Book Publishing Record Cumulative 1998 R R Bowker Publishing,1999-03 Makers of the Media Mind Wm. David Sloan,2014-07-10 Makers of the Media Mind is a collection of analytical essays focusing on the most important and original ideas contributed to the field of mass communication by journalism educators Divided into six sections representing the most prominent areas of specialization in the field this text serves two significant purposes first it acquaints readers with the lives of preeminent journalism educators second it provides concise discussions and evaluations of the most compelling ideas those educators have to offer The editor of and contributors to this text contend that ideas cannot be appreciated fully without an understanding of the creators of those same ideas They hope that this volume s coverage of creators as well as concepts will demonstrate that journalism education has played a critical role in the making of the media mind Quantitative Research Methods in Communication Erica Scharrer,Srividya Ramasubramanian,2021-05-13 This textbook is an advanced introduction to quantitative methods for students in communication and allied social science disciplines that focuses on why and how to conduct research that contributes to social justice Today s researchers are inspired by the potential for scholarship to make a difference for society to push toward more just and equitable ends and to engage in dialogue with members of the public so that they can make decisions about how to navigate the social cultural and political world equipped with accurate fair and up to date knowledge This book illustrates the mechanics and the meaning behind quantitative research methods by illustrating each step in the research design process with research addressing questions of social justice It provides practical guidance for researchers who wish to engage in the transformation of structures practices and understandings in society through community and civic engagement and policy formation It contains step by step guidance in quantitative methods from conceptualization through all the stages of execution of a study including providing a detailed guide for statistical analysis and demonstrates how researchers can engage with social justice issues in systematic rigorous ethical and meaningful ways This text serves as a core or supplementary textbook for graduate and advanced undergraduate courses in research methods for communication and social sciences and fills a gap for a methods text that is responsive to the desire of scholars to conduct socially impactful research Resources in Education ,1990 AEJMC News ,1996 Makers of the Media Mind William David Sloan,1990 First Published in 1990 Routledge is an
