Theology And The Boundary Discourse Of Human Rights:

Theology and the Boundary Discourse of Human Rights Ethna Regan, 2010-04-14 What are human rights Can theology acknowledge human rights discourse Is theological engagement with human rights justified What place should this discourse occupy within ethics Ethna Regan seeks to answer these questions about human rights Christian theology and philosophical ethics The main purpose of this book is to justify and explore theological engagement with human rights Regan illustrates how that engagement is both ecumenical and diverse citing the emerging engagement with human rights discourse by evangelical theologians in response to the War on Terror The book examines where the themes and concerns of key modern theologians Karl Rahner J B Metz Jon Sobrino and Ignacio Ellacur a converge with the themes and concerns of those committed to the advancement of human rights Regan also critically engages with the disdain for rights discourse that is found in the postliberal critiques of John Milbank and Stanley Hauerwas This interdisciplinary volume will be of interest to students and scholars in the fields of systematic theology theological ethics human rights religion and politics and political theory

Post-Christian Interreligious Liberation Theology Hussam S. Timani, Loye Sekihata Ashton, 2019-11-29 This book explores the ideals of liberation theology from the perspectives of major religious traditions including Islam Christianity Judaism Buddhism and the neo Vedanta and Advaita Hindu traditions The goal of this volume is not to explain the Christian liberation theology tradition and then assess whether the non Christian liberation theologies meet the Christian standards Rather authors use comparative interreligious methodologies to offer new insights on liberation theology and begin a dialogue on how to build interreligious liberation theologies The goal is to make liberation theology more inclusive of religious diversity beyond traditional Christian categories

Slavery-Free Communities Dan Pratt, 2021-07-30 Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking MSHT are global crimes impacting local communities Vulnerable people are exploited through labour sex and forced criminality Churches and communities are increasingly encountering these victims and survivors and consequently need to develop more effective engagement The book will highlight that churches and communities are in a unique position to partner towards slavery free communities Beginning with the narratives of survivors who experienced three different forms of MSHT including labour exploitation sexual exploitation and domestic exploitation the book then shows how practitioners and theologians respond to these narratives through exploring theologies of suffering ecology missiology restorative justice trinitarian theology and liberation theology Offering faith responses from organisations such as The Salvation Army The Clewer Initiative BMS World Mission and Rene Cassinhe the volume also includes a final resource section with prayers and liturgy for survivors and victims as well as for church and community responses The book includes a forward by the Rt Hon Theresa May MP and an opening prayer by the Most Revd Justin Welby

Renewing the Self Benjamin J. Wood, 2017-05-11 Over the last decade the UK has witnessed a stunning resurgence of religious engagement in both politics and civil society From the social pluralism of New Labour to the rise of post liberalism the recovery of religious sensibilities in areas like education and welfare continues to have a significant effect on the content of political debate on both the Right and Left What unites these diverse projects is an effort to recover a neglected form of selfhood Less acquisitive more relational this vision of human identity has led politicians and policy makers to reject avaricious and atomist accounts of the self in favour of richer accounts of citizenship and common life What do these latter models mean for citizens and communities This book analyses the roots significance and future of these developments through the lens of contemporary Christian communities By drawing on disciplines as diverse as philosophy theology history economics and political theory Renewing the Self reflects on the prospects and challenges of this rich self in a globalised and rapidly changing world

Gender, Race and Religion Martin Bulmer, John Solomos, 2014-01-02 Gender Race and Religion brings together a selection of original papers published in Ethnic and Racial Studies that address the intersections between gender relations race and religion in our contemporary environment Chapters address both theoretical and empirical aspects of this phenomenon and although written from the perspective of quite different national social and political situations they are linked by a common concern to analyze the interface between gender and other situated social relationships from both a conceptual and a policy angle These are issues that have been the subject of intense scholarly research and analysis in recent years as well as forming part of public debates about the significance of gender race and religion as sites of identity formation and mobilization in our changing global environment The substantive chapters bring together insights from both theoretical reflection and empirical research in order to investigate particular facets of these questions Gender Race and Religion addresses issues that are at the heart of contemporary scholarly debates in the field of race and ethnic studies and engages with important questions in policy and public debates This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies

Surrendering to Utopia Mark Goodale, 2009-05-01 Surrendering to Utopia is a critical and wide ranging study of anthropology's contributions to human rights Providing a unique window into the underlying political and intellectual currents that have shaped human rights in the postwar period this ambitious work opens up new opportunities for research analysis and political action At the book's core the author describes a well tempered human rights orientation to human rights in the twenty first century that is shaped by a sense of humility an appreciation for the disorienting fact of multiplicity and a willingness to make the mundaneness of social practice a source of ethical inspiration In examining the curious history of anthropology s engagement with human rights this book moves from more traditional anthropological topics within the broader human rights community for example relativism and the problem of culture to consider a wider range of theoretical and empirical topics Among others it examines the link between anthropology and the emergence of neoliberal human rights explores the claim that anthropology has played an important role in legitimizing these rights and gauges whether or not this is evidence of anthropology s potential to transform human rights theory and practice more generally
