Cable,Larry Beck,2003 This text explains cultural and natural environments and how to process information for the public in museums parks forests and many other private and public interpretive agencies worldwide Based in research and theory this book defines affirms and unifies this diverse field for both professionals and students by presenting the challenges and possibilities of the field including the presentation of interpretation to diverse audiences effective programming strategies state of the art management and marketing techniques training and using volunteers and the trends facing interpretation today and in the future The Multiple Values of Wilderness H. Ken Cordell,John Clark Bergstrom,James M. Bowker,2005 Gone are those of the 1950s and early 1960s who championed preserving wild lands and who influenced and saw the birth of the National Wilderness Preservation System NWPS Gone too are myriad eager managers and proponents of wild land protection of the late 1960s and 1970s who helped rear the fledgling Wilderness system and bring it into adolescence by adding management practices and policy interpretations In this the 40th year since the birth of the NWPS this middle age federal land system is surrounded by many new faces as its childhood friends have moved on to other callings have retired or are no longer with us Needed in these new times is a clear comprehensive articulation of the multiple values of Wilderness The overall purpose of this book is to tell fully what we know about the range of values Americans hold toward the NWPS in a factual wide ranging and science based way A multidisciplinary team of authors and researchers clarify the meaning of different types of Wilderness values and present replicable science based evidence of these values in this volume The intended audience is all those new faces who can and do have power over the future of the U S National Wilderness Preservation System as well as all who seek to influence those who have this power This book is also intended for teachers students and other inquisitive people involved in formal or informal learning and research programs The authors intend this compilation to help better inform interested and engaged members of the general public about the values of their public Wilderness areas After all it is the American citizen who is ultimately responsible and can influence public policy in the greatest measure through their individual and collective voices and actions Publisher Evaluating Leisure Services Karla A. Henderson, M. Deborah Bialeschki, 1995 This book fills a void in our literature with a comprehensive up to date treatment of evaluation in recreation park and leisure services The book provides a basic over view and working knowledge of evaluation procedures for upper level undergraduate students beginning graduate students and practitioners who wish to apply evaluation research in their work The authors have written the book in concise clear chapters in which they not only outline key points but also provide examples of various evaluation issues Both Gains and Gaps Karla A.

Henderson, 1996 This publication is a book in progress that elaborates on issues about women gender and leisure across the life span The text is an update of Leisure of One's Own 1989 and contains 80% new revised and updated material Although many gains have been made in understanding women's leisure much remains to be learned Both Gains and Gaps provides further information about women and the issues that surround both the gains and gaps associated with the construct we commonly call leisure This textbook serves as an introduction to issues and questions concerning women and leisure Building on both leisure studies and women's studies Henderson Bialeschki Shaw and Freysinger offer a social psychological analysis of women and their leisure from feminist perspectives No prior knowledge of women's studies or leisure studies is assumed in this definitive work Health Careers Guidebook United States. Employment and Training Administration, 1979

Leisure Studies Edgar Lionel Jackson, Thomas L. Burton, 1999 In this edited volume Jackson and Burton have attempted no less than an assessment of what is known about recreation and leisure at the beginning of the twenty first century In doing this they have drawn on the talents of top scholars in various areas of study and done so from a carefully conceived vision of what was needed Jackson and Burton have also done the reader the great favor of being both aggressive and meticulous editors a rarity among such edited volumes This book is the only comprehensive statement of what is known about recreation and leisure as the twenty first century begins with its heightened potential to create a world in which such knowledge is critical to well being Leisure Studies Prospects for the Twenty First Century provides both a retrospective examination of what has been achieved in leisure studies in the twentieth century the last few decades in particular and a look into the future This book offers new perspectives on preexisting and emerging themes and is a significant contribution to the literature Nature and the Human Spirit Beverly L. Driver, 1996 This provocative and timely text advocates an expanded ethic oriented toward ecosystem sustainability and focuses on the role of nature in maintaining the human spirit Diverse views are put forth in 38 chapters by 49 authors who represent all types of users and interests This text presents a balanced in depth perspective on this difficult topic of hard to define values The text encourages a sense of awe about the complexity of natural systems as it redefines the words spirit and spirituality by redirecting the reader from the realms of the sectarian religious or mystical toward a nature based meaning This perspective encompasses the physical emotional mental spiritual social and economic well being of people and communities emphasizing the sameness of humans and land and it lays the groundwork for an understanding of and a need for an expanded land management ethic
