Signature Pedagogies for the Playwriting Classroom Andrew Black, 2025-06-12 Drawing on qualitative research exploring the techniques of playwriting instructors this book outlines signature pedagogies within playwriting instruction for novice writers and how they may be reimagined and reinvigorated Through research gathered in interviews with 11 instructors and surveying their methods syllabi and handouts Andrew Black interrogates key challenges within dramatic writing pedagogy the myth that it along with creativity cannot be taught the lack of clarity about the instructional value of playwriting education for diverse contemporary audiences the tendency to allow the writing product to drive instruction rather than process and the tension between traditional and experimental models of play construction and how this can confound instructional techniques Identifying 3 indispensable and signature pedagogies that are consistently used in the classroom the writing exercise the use of mentor texts and the workshopping of student material this book describes key strategies and practices used by seasoned instructors which bring these pedagogical strategies to life strategies and practices which can support instructors in reimagining their playwriting classrooms An intervention for lorebased pedagogical models that are often out of date and reflect the biases of previous generations Black offers a starting point for instructors developing their inclusive lesson plans offering a comprehensive understanding of pedagogical options available to the instructors

Learning foreign languages: experiences of persons with disabilities and special educational needs and their teachers Ewa Domagala-Zysk, Jitka Sedláčková, Katarzyna Karpińska-Szaj, 2025-09-22 In many parts of the world it is not a person's native language but a foreign one which is used for education work or entertainment. This is true for many European countries whose inhabitants need to learn English as a foreign language if they want to participate in education or among diverse fields in the workforce. In other parts of the world it might be Spanish, Hindi, Mandarin, Chinese, Arabic or other languages which will be serving a similar role. This need for learning a second language is understood well in many educational programs including those for students with special educational needs. However, to date there is not much research of the experiences of persons with diverse additional needs as learners of foreign languages. The most robust literature covers the field of additional language acquisition among Deaf and Hard of Hearing (DHH) people (Domaga a Zy k Podlowska Moritz 2021) and others. Goals, methods and forms of teaching are fairly well described and DHH students' needs have been documented extensively.
