SAGE Handbook of Research on Classroom Assessment James H. McMillan, 2013 The Sage Handbook of Research on Classroom Assessment provides scholars professors graduate students and other researchers and policy makers in the organizations agencies testing companies and school districts with a comprehensive source of research on all aspects of K 12 classroom assessment The handbook emphasizes theory conceptual frameworks and all varieties of research quantitative qualitative mixed methods to provide an in depth understanding of the knowledge base in each area of classroom assessment and how to conduct inquiry in the area It presents classroom assessment research to convey in depth the state of knowledge and understanding that is represented by the research with particular emphasis on how classroom assessment practices affect student achievement and teacher behavior Editor James H McMillan and five Associate Editors bring the best thinking and analysis from leading classroom assessment researchers on the nature of the research making significant contributions to this prominent and hotly debated topic in education

Cognition in Practice Jean Lave, 1988-07-29 Most previous research on human cognition has focused on problem solving and has confined its investigations to the laboratory As a result it has been difficult to account for complex mental processes and their place in culture and history In this startling indeed disorienting study Jean Lave moves the analysis of one particular form of cognitive activity arithmetic problem solving out of the laboratory into the domain of everyday life In so doing she shows how mathematics in the real world like all thinking is shaped by the dynamic encounter between the culturally endowed mind and its total context a subtle interaction that shapes both the human subject and the world within which it acts The study is focused on mundane daily activities such as grocery shopping for best buys in the supermarket dieting and so on Innovative in its method fascinating in its findings the research is above all significant in its theoretical contributions Have offers a cogent critique of conventional cognitive theory turning for an alternative to recent social theory and weaving a compelling synthesis from elements of culture theory theories of practice and Marxist discourse The result is a new way of understanding human thought processes a vision of cognition as the dialectic between persons acting and the settings in which their activity is constituted The book will appeal to anthropologists for its novel theory of the relation of cognition to culture and context to cognitive scientists and educational theorists and to the plain folks who form its subject and who will recognize themselves in it a rare accomplishment in the modern social sciences

Cultivating Excellence in Education Annette Rasmussen, Christian Ydesen, 2020-02-05 This book critically analyses the current education political strategy of cultivating excellence in education It shows how the new policy for selecting talented students in Denmark deconstructs the compromise from which the comprehensive school was built and reduces equal opportunities It discusses how the current practice of measurement selection and guidance of talented students brings about significant changes in education policies in pedagogic practices a restructuring of school organisations and changed requirements of teachers It explains how the internal differentiation of education systems based on self selection and free choice but also on new assessment techniques tends to widen the inequality gap between students The analysis clearly shows the relationship between the circulation of new ideas and normative frameworks at international level and their transfer into national policies while situating these developments in a socio historical perspective The book illustrates by means of a concrete case study with important empirical data that demonstrate the reality and influence of this new policy on the day to day work of teachers
