The Political Economy of the Agri-Food System in Thailand

Prapimphan Chiengkul, 2017-05-08 The mainstream agri food system in Thailand has been shaped to aid capital accumulation by domestic and transnational hegemonic forces and is currently sustained through hegemonic agri food production distribution governance structures and ideational order However sustainable agriculture and land reform movements have to certain extents managed to offer alternatives This book adopts a neo Marxist and Gramscian approach to studying the political economy of the agricultural and food system in Thailand 1990 2014 The author argues that hegemonic forces have many measures to co opt dissent into hegemonic structures and that counter hegemony should be seen as an ongoing process over a long period of time where predominantly counter hegemonic forces constrained by political economic structural conditions may at times retain some hegemonic elements Contrary to what some academic studies suggest the author argues that localist inspired social movements in Thailand are not insular and anti globalisation Instead they are selective in fostering collaborations and globalisation based on values such as sustainability fairness and partnership Providing new perspectives on polarised politics in Thailand particularly how cross class alliances can further or frustrate counter hegemonic movements the book points to the importance of analysing social movements in relation to established political authority It will be of interest to academics in the field of Politics and International Relations Sociology Development Studies and Asian Studies

Research Handbook on Human Rights and the Environment Anna Grear, Louis J.

Kotzé, 2015-06-29 Bringing together leading international scholars in the field this Research Handbook interrogates from various angles and positions the fractious relationship between human rights and the environment and between human rights and environmental law

The Politics of Biofuels, Land and Agrarian Change Saturnino Borras Jr., Philip McMichael, Ian

Scoones, 2013-09-13 This book addresses key questions on biofuels within agrarian political economy political sociology and political ecology Contributions are based on fresh empirical materials from different parts of the world The book starts with four key questions in agrarian political economy Who owns what Who does what Who gets what And what do they do with the surplus wealth It also addresses the emergent social and political relations in the biofuel complex and given the impacts on natural resources and sustainability engages with questions about people environment interactions At the same time the book is concerned with the politics of representation that is what are the discursive frames through which biofuels are promoted and or opposed The book analyses the institutional structures and cultures of energy consumption on which a biofuels complex depends and the alternative political and ecological visions emerging that call the biofuels complex into question Across sixteen chapters presenting material from five regions across the North South divide and focusing on fourteen countries including Brazil Indonesia India USA and Germany these topics are addressed within the following themes global re configurations agro ecological visions conflicts resistances and diverse outcomes state capital and society relations mobilising opposition creating alternatives and change and continuity This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies

Land and Resource Scarcity Andreas Exner,2013 This book brings together geological biological radical economic technological historical and social perspectives on peak oil and other scarce resources The contributors to this volume argue that these scarcities will put an end to the capitalist system as we know it and alternatives must be created The book combines natural science with emancipatory thinking focusing on bottom up alternatives and social struggles to change the world by taking action The volume introduces original contributions to the debates on peak oil land grabbing and social alternatives thus creating a synthesis to gain an overview of the multiple crises of our times The book sets out to analyse how crises of energy climate metals minerals and the soil relate to the global land grab which has accelerated greatly since 2008 as well as to examine the crisis of profit production and political legitimacy Based on a theoretical understanding of the multiple crises and the effects of peak oil and other scarcities on capital accumulation the contributors explore the social innovations that provide an alternative Using the most up to date research on resource crises this integrative and critical analysis brings together the issues with a radical perspective on possibilities for future change as well as a strong social economic and ethical dimension The book should be of interest to researchers and students of environmental policy politics sustainable development and natural resource management

Critical Perspectives on Food Sovereignty Marc Edelman,2017-10-02 This volume is a pioneering contribution to the study of food politics and critical agrarian studies where food sovereignty has emerged as a pivotal concept over the past few decades with a wide variety of social movements on the ground experiments and policy innovations flying under its broad banner Despite its large and growing popularity the history theoretical foundations and political program of food sovereignty have only occasionally received in depth analysis and critical scrutiny This collection brings together both longstanding scholars in critical agrarian studies such as Philip McMichael Bina Agarwal Henry Bernstein Jan Douwe van der Ploeg and Marc Edelman as well as a dynamic roster of early and mid career researchers The ultimate aim is to advance this important frontier of research and organizing and put food sovereignty on stronger footing as a mobilizing frame a policy objective and a plan of action for the human future This volume was published as part one of the special double issue celebrating the 40th anniversary of the Journal of Peasant Studies Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India Kenneth Bo Nielsen,2018-02-22 Over the past decade India has witnessed a number of land wars that have centred crucially on the often forcible transfer of land from small farmers or indigenous groups to private companies Among these the land war that erupted in Singur West Bengal in 2006 went on to make national headlines and become paradigmatic of many of the challenges and social conflicts that arise when a state led policy of swiftly transferring land to private sector companies encounters resistance on the ground Land Dispossession and Everyday Politics in Rural Eastern India analyses the movement by Singur s so called unwilling farmers to retain and reclaim their farmland By foregrounding the everyday politics of popular mobilization the book sheds new light on the movement s internal politics as well as on contentious issues rooted in everyday caste class and gender relations The Politics of Inequality David Pettinicchio,2021-07-19 For its breadth and depth of research this volume of Research in Political Sociology is essential reading for researchers and students of Politics Sociology and Policy Food Sovereignty in International Context Amy Trauger,2015-02-11 Food sovereignty is an emerging discourse of empowerment and autonomy in the food system with the development of associated practices in rural and some urban spaces While literature on food sovereignty has proliferated since the first usage of the term in 1996 at the Rome Food Summit most has been descriptive rather than explanatory in nature and often confuses food sovereignty with other movements and objectives such as alternative food networks food justice or food self sufficiency This book is a collection of empirically rich and theoretically engaged papers across a broad geographical spectrum reflecting on what constitutes the politics and practices of food sovereignty They contribute to a theoretical gap in the food sovereignty literature as well as a relative shortage of empirical work on food sovereignty in the global North much previous work having focussed on Latin America Specific case studies are included from Canada Norway Switzerland southern Europe UK and USA as well as Africa India and Ecuador The book presents new research on the emergence of food sovereignties It offers a wide variety of empirical examples and a theoretically engaged framework for explaining the aims of actors and organizations working toward autonomy and democracy in the food system Global Land Grabs Marc Edelman,Carlos Oya,Saturnino M. Borras Jr.,2016-03-22 Since the 2008 world food crisis a surge of land grabbing swept Africa Asia and Latin America and even some regions of Europe and North America Investors have uprooted rural communities for massive agricultural biofuels mining industrial and urbanisation projects Water grabbing and green grabbing have further exacerbated social tensions Early analyses of land grabbing focused on foreign actors the biofuels boom and Africa and pointed to catastrophic consequences for the rural poor Subsequently scholars carried out local case studies in diverse world regions The contributors to this volume advance the discussion to a new stage critically scrutinizing alarmist claims of the first wave of research probing the historical antecedents of today's land grabbing examining large scale land acquisitions in light of international human rights and investment law and considering anew longstanding questions in agrarian political economy about forms of dispossession and accumulation and grassroots resistance Readers of this collection will learn about the impacts of land and water grabbing the relevance of key theorists including Marx Polanyi and Harvey the realities of China's involvement in Africa how contemporary land grabbing differs from earlier plantation agriculture and how social movements and rural people in general are responding to this new threat This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly
