Semiotics and Hermeneutics of the Everyday Gregory Paschalidis,Lia Yoka,2015-06-18 The linchpin of the momentous paradigm shift that produced the new hermeneutics of everyday life was a focus on people as active agents in various cultural contexts uses and practices the merging of the conventional distinctions between the private and the public the local and the global the material and the symbolic and the bridging of the agency structure divide marking grand historical and cultural narratives In their place a wealth of new kinds of narratives were produced out what

Translation and Translation Studies in the Japanese Context Nana Sato-Rossberg,2012-08-09 Japan is often regarded as a culture of translation Oral and written translation has played a vital role in Japan over the centuries and led to a formidable body of thinking and research This is rooted in a context about which little information has been available outside of Japan in the past The chapters examine the current state of translation studies as an academic discipline in Japan and a range of historical aspects for example translation of Chinese vernacular novels in early modern times the role of translation in Japan s modernization changes in stylistic norms in Meiji period translations thick translation of indigenous Ainu place names as well as creative aspects of translation in modern and postwar Japan Other chapters explore contemporary phenomena such as the intralingual translation of Japanese expressions embedded in English texts emanating from diasporic contexts the practice of pre translation or writing for an international audience from the outset the innovative practice of reverse localization of Japanese video games back into Japanese and community interpreting practices and research Researching Translation and Interpreting Claudia V. Angelelli,Brian James Baer,2015-07-16 This volume offers a comprehensive view of current research directions in Translation and Interpreting Studies outlining the theoretical concepts underpinning that research and presenting detailed discussions of the various methods used Organized around three factors that are responsible for shaping the study of translation and interpreting today post positivist theoretical approaches developments in the language industry and technological innovations this volume is divided into three parts Part I introduces the basic concepts organizing translation and interpreting research such as the difference between qualitative and quantitative research between product oriented and process oriented studies and between prescriptive and descriptive approaches Part II provides a theoretical mapping of current translation and interpreting research covering the theories underlying the current conceptualization of translation and interpreting from queer studies to cognitive science Part III explores the key methodological approaches to research in Translation and Interpreting Studies including corpus based longitudinal observational and ethnographic studies as well as survey and focus group based studies The international range of contributors are all leading research experts who use the methodologies in their work They present the research aims of these methods offer sample research questions that can and cannot be addressed by these methods and discuss modes of data collection and analysis This is an essential reference for all advanced undergraduates postgraduates and researchers in Translation and Interpreting Studies Non-Professional Subtitling Yvonne Lee,David Orrego-Carmona,2017-08-21 From fansubbing fan generated translation to user generated translation from amateur translation to social translation non professional subtitling has come a long way since its humble beginning in the 1980s. The prevailing technological affordance enables and mobilises the digital generation to turn subtitling into a method of self expression and mediation and their activities have made translation a more social and visible activity than ever before. This volume provides a comprehensive review of the current state of play of this user generated subtitling phenomenon. It includes projects and research focusing on various aspects of non professional subtitling including the communities at work, the agents at play, the production conditions and the products. The perspectives in the book explore the role played by the agents involved in the emerging subtitling networks worldwide and their impact on the communities is also discussed based on empirical data generated from observations on active fansubbing communities. The collection demonstrates from various viewpoints the ways in which non professional subtitling connects languages, cultures and communities in a global setting.

Introducing Translation Studies Jeremy Munday, Sara Ramos Pinto, Jacob Blakesley, 2022-05-02. Introducing Translation Studies remains the definitive guide to the theories and concepts that make up the field of translation studies. Providing an accessible and up to date overview, it has long been the essential textbook on courses worldwide. This fifth edition has been fully revised and continues to provide a balanced and detailed guide to the theoretical landscape. Each theory is applied to a wide range of languages including Bengali, Chinese, English, French, German, Italian, Punjabi, Portuguese and Spanish. A broad spectrum of texts is analysed including the Bible, Buddhist sutras, Beowulf, the fiction of Proust and the theatre of Shakespeare. European Union and UNESCO documents, a range of contemporary films, a travel brochure, a children's cookery book and the translations of Harry Potter. Each chapter comprises an introduction outlining the translation theory or theories, illustrative texts with translations, case studies, a chapter summary and discussion points and exercises. New features in this fifth edition include: New material to keep up with developments in research and practice, this includes the sociology of translation chapter where a new case study employs a Bourdieusian approach; there is also newly structured discussion on translation in the digital age and audiovisual and machine translation; Revised discussion points and updated figures and tables; New in chapter activities with links in the enhanced ebook to online materials and articles to encourage independent research; An extensive updated companion website with video introductions and journal articles to accompany each chapter; online exercises; an interactive timeline; weblinks and PowerPoint slides for teacher support.
