Outdoor Learning through the Seasons Ann Watts, 2020-05-14 Outdoor learning and play experiences are an essential part of young children's development. The importance of offering children first hand experience of the natural world becomes more urgent as research evidence demonstrates the benefits of becoming physically and emotionally involved with the natural world. Outdoor Learning through the Seasons shows how we can encourage young children to engage with nature on a daily basis throughout the year. Using the four seasons as a framework it supports adults to develop their own awareness of the world around them and feel confident about taking children outside every day. There are suggestions for caring for gardens and wildlife through the year and ideas to brighten grey winter days, enjoy the summer sunshine or explore in the snow. Now featuring full colour photographs throughout this new edition has been updated to include references to recent research, new material on Forest Schools, discussion questions for practitioners and in depth case studies of learning in action. Features include: Ideas for all seasons, weather conditions and working with the four elements earth, air, water and fire; Guidance on fulfilling the learning requirements of EYFS and the Characteristics of Effective Learning; Advice on working with parents and the role of adults; Practical tips and suggestions of how to make the most of a small space or how to re-plan an existing space; Useful reference lists of further resources including stories, poems and websites. This practical book is essential reading for all those looking to provide rich and stimulating outdoor learning and play provision for children in early years settings on a daily basis and for parents and carers wishing to get the most of time outdoors with their children.

Teaching on a Shoestring Helen Lewis, Russell Grigg, 2018-09-14 In Teaching on a Shoestring an A to Z of everyday objects to enthuse and engage children and extend learning in the early years. Russell Grigg and Helen Lewis explore the educational value of familiar objects and suggest practical activities to help develop young learners' cross-curricular skills. We take many everyday objects for granted. But in a time of ever-tightening school budgets these objects can be invaluable in affording low cost high impact opportunities for learning. With these value for money principles in mind Russell and Helen have packed this practical A to Z handbook to the brim with fun facts, inspiring ideas and exciting activities to help teachers make the best use of familiar objects as launch pads for effective learning. Underpinned by solid theory Teaching on a Shoestring investigates the learning potential of twenty six inexpensive readily available resources from apples to ice cubes to zebra patterned fabric and shows how they can be exploited to develop in young learners the four skills widely regarded as essential in the twenty first century: communication, collaboration, critical thinking and creativity. The book is organised into two parts covering theory then practice. In Part 1 the authors examine the nature of an object rich learning environment and discuss the benefits of enquiry based learning in which the emphasis is upon promoting collaboration, dialogue and higher order thinking in real world contexts. In Part 2 the learning opportunities around the twenty six objects are laid out in detail to illustrate how they can be put into practice. While the book focuses on object based pedagogy employed with the under sevens age category many of the principles can also be applied with older children There is a common format for the enquiry into each object arranged into the following sections In a nutshell key background information about the object in its broader context Did you know interesting facts about the object Ready key vocabulary resources and health and safety factors to consider Steady learning goals and intentions Go activities which show how teachers can develop the four skills of communication collaboration critical thinking and creativity around the object Other ideas follow up cross curricular ideas and Find out more websites and other references for further information Suitable for early years educators and anyone who works with young children
