Women and Leadership George R. Goethals, Crystal L. Hoyt, 2016-12-30 Women and Leadership edited by George R. Goethals and Crystal L. Hoyt of the Jepson School of Leadership Studies at the University of Richmond is a compact collection of thoughtful essays by experts on leadership theory as well as women's history. Women and Leadership has been designed to help students and citizens who want a more nuanced explanation of what we know about women as leaders and about how they have led in different fields in different parts of the world and in past centuries. It includes twenty biographies of women leaders in many different domains not only politics but also education, fashion, sports, and social and environmental movements.

Against Civility Alex Zamalin, 2021-02-02 The first history of racial injustice to examine how civility and white supremacy are linked and a call for citizens who care about social justice to abandon civility and practice civic radicalism. The idea and practice of civility has always been wielded to silence dissent, repress political participation, and justify violence upon people of color. Although many progressives today are told that we need to be more polite and thoughtful, less rancorous and angry when we talk about race in America, civility maintains rather than disrupts racial injustice. Spanning two hundred years, Zamalin's accessible blend of intellectual history, political biography, and contemporary political criticism shows that civility has never been neutral in its political uses and impacts. The best way to tackle racial inequality is through civic radicalism, an alternative to civility found in the actions of Black radical leaders including Frederick Douglass, Harriet Tubman, Ida B. Wells, Martin Luther King Jr., James Baldwin, Malcolm X, and Audre Lorde. Civic radicals shock and provoke people. They name injustice and who is responsible for it. They protest, march, strike, boycott, and mobilize collectively rather than form alliances with those who fundamentally oppose them. In Against Civility, citizens who care deeply about racial and socioeconomic equality will see that they need to abandon this concept of discreet politeness when it comes to racial justice and instead more fully support disruptive actions and calls for liberation which have already begun with movements like MeToo, the Dakota Access Pipeline protests, and Black Lives Matter.

The Cross and the Lynching Tree James H. Cone, 2011 A landmark in the conversation about race and religion in America. They put him to death by hanging him on a tree. Acts 10:39. The cross and the lynching tree are the two most emotionally charged symbols in the history of the African American community. In this powerful new work, theologian James H. Cone explores these symbols and their interconnection in the history and souls of Black folk. Both the cross and the lynching tree represent the worst in human beings and at the same time a thirst for life that refuses to let the worst determine our final meaning. While the lynching tree symbolized white power and Black death, the cross symbolizes divine power and Black life. God overcoming the power of sin and death. For African Americans, the image of Jesus hung on a tree to die powerfully grounded their faith that God was with them even in the suffering of the lynching era. In a work that spans social history, theology, and cultural studies, Cone explores the message of the spirituals and the power of the blues, the passion of Emmet Till, and the engaged vision of Martin Luther King Jr. he invokes the spirits of Billie Holliday and Langston Hughes Fannie Lou Hamer and Ida B Well and the witness of black artists writers preachers and fighters for justice And he remembers the victims especially the 5 000 who perished during the lynching period Through their witness he contemplates the greatest challenge of any Christian theology to explain how life can be made meaningful in the face of death and injustice
