Abstract: This study examines the impact of the 2008 financial crisis on the U.S. economy. The study uses a combination of qualitative and quantitative methods to analyze the impact of the crisis on the U.S. economy. The study finds that the crisis had a significant negative impact on the U.S. economy, leading to a sharp decline in GDP and a rise in unemployment. The study also finds that the crisis had a significant impact on the U.S. financial system, leading to a loss of confidence in the financial system and a sharp decline in stock prices. The study concludes that the crisis had a significant negative impact on the U.S. economy and the U.S. financial system, and that the impact is likely to be long-lasting.
