This Was The Old Chiefs Countrie Stories:

Culture and Literature Tawhida Akhter, 2022-01-25 During the last few decades there has been remarkable progress in research on various aspects of cross cultural relationships Different fields have been explored and there are still so many fields yet to be explored We often talk about how one culture has affected another this book serves to draw parallels between different cultures It explores how culture plays an important role in the development of personality It further examines how behavior has both a positive and a negative effect in the development of personality and interrogates how literature portrays the reality of a culture through its fictitious characters

The Obsolete Empire Philip Tsang, 2021-11-02 Modernist literature at the end of the British empire challenges conventional notions of homeland heritage and community Finalist of the MSA First Book Prize by The Modernist Studies Association The waning British empire left behind an abundance of material relics and an inventory of feelings not easily relinquished In The Obsolete Empire Philip Tsang brings together an unusual constellation of writers Henry James James Joyce Doris Lessing and V S Naipaul to trace an aesthetics of frustrated attachment that emerged in the wake of imperial decline Caught between an expansive Britishness and an exclusive Englishness these writers explored what it meant to belong to an empire that did not belong to them Thanks to their voracious reading of English fiction and poetry in their formative years all of these writers experienced a richly textured world with which they deeply identified but from which they felt excluded The literary England they imagined frozen in time and out of place with the realities of imperial decline in turn figures in their writings as a repository of unconsummated attachments contradictory desires and belated exchanges Their works arrest the linear progression from colonial to postcolonial from empire to nation and from subject to citizen Drawing on a rich body of scholarship on affect and temporality Tsang demonstrates how the British empire endures as a structure of desire that outlived its political lifespan By showing how literary reading sets in motion a tense interplay of intimacy and exclusion Tsang investigates a unique mode of belonging arising from the predicament of being conscripted into a global empire but not desired as its proper citizen Ultimately The Obsolete Empire asks What does it mean to be inside or outside any given culture How do large scale geopolitical changes play out at the level of cultural attachment and political belonging How does literary reading establish or unsettle narratives of who we are These questions preoccupied writers across Britain's former empire and continue to resonate today Postwar British Fiction, Doris Lessing Lorna Sage, 2019-10-08 Doris Lessing was one of the most impressive prolific and vital of twentieth century writers Her fiction is obsessed with the workings of cultural change and she radically extended the novel's scope most famously and influentially in The Golden Notebook by questioning the realist tradition she inherited and the wider social beliefs about self sexuality and authority which that tradition symbolized This study originally published in 1983 surveys her epic output from her early African writings to her later experiments with space fiction It traces her struggles to decentre imaginative life and to erase and to redraw the boundaries of our mental maps in favour of values on the margins of the official culture Across the Lines, 2022-05-16 This third volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the subject of intertextuality Intertextual relations between oral and written versions of literature text and performance as well as problems emerging from media transitions regionally instructed forms of intertextuality and the works of individual authors are equally dealt with Intertextuality as both a creative and a critical practice frequently exposes the essential arbitrariness of literary and cultural manifestations that have become canonized The transformation and transfer of meanings which accompanies any crossing between texts rests not least on the nature of the artistic corpus embodied in the general framework of historically and socially determined cultural traditions Traditions however result from selective forms of perception they are as much inventions as they are based on exclusion Intertextuality leads to a constant reinforcement of tradition while at the same time intertextual relations between the new literatures and other English language literatures are all too obvious Despite the inevitable impact of tradition the new literatures tend to employ a dynamic reading of culture which fosters social process and transition thus promoting transcultural rather than intercultural modes of communication Writing and reading across borders becomes a dialogue which reveals both differences and similarities More than a decolonizing form of deconstruction intertextuality is a strategy for communicating meaning across cultural boundaries A Study Guide for Doris Lessing's "A Sunrise on the Veld" Gale, Cengage Learning, A Study Guide for Doris Lessing's A Sunrise on the Veld excerpted from Gale's acclaimed Short Stories for Students This concise study guide includes plot summary character analysis author biography study questions historical context suggestions for further reading and much more For any literature project trust Short Stories for Students for all of your research needs Using Literature to Teach English as a Second Language Membrive, Veronica, Armie, Madalina, 2020-05-22 Innovation has replaced stereotypical and old methods as an attempt to make English language teaching and learning appealing effective and simple However teaching a second language through literature may be a paramount tool to consolidate not only students lexical and grammatical competences but also for the development of their cultural awareness and broadening of their knowledge through interaction and collaboration that foster collective learning Despite past difficulties literature s position in relation to language teaching can be revendicated and revalued Using Literature to Teach English as a Second Language is an essential research publication that exposes the current state of this methodological approach and observes its reverberations usefulness strengths and weaknesses when used in a classroom where English is taught as a second language In this way this book will provide updated tools to explore teaching and learning through the most creative and enriching manifestations of one language literature Featuring a range of topics such as diversity language learning and plurilingualism this book is ideal for academicians curriculum designers administrators education professionals researchers and students Doris Lessing Harold Bloom,2003 Essays of critical interpretation portray views of Doris Lessing s work including The Golden Notebook Marriages and The Grass is Singing
