To Govern Evolution Further Adventures Of The Political Animal:

Future Survey Annual 1987 Michael Marien, 1988-01-01

Transforming Human Culture Jay Earley, 1997-06-30

Explains how human social evolution has led both to worthwhile achievements and moral horrors and provides perspective on today's planetary crisis by viewing it as a transition within the larger picture of social evolution The Fourth Wave

Herman Maynard, Susan E. Mehrtens, 1996-08-31 Applying the concept of historical waves originally propounded by Alvin Toffler in The Third Wave Herman Maynard and Susan Mehrtens look toward the next century and foresee a fourth wave an era of integration and responsibility far beyond Toffler's revolutionary description of third wave postindustrial society Whether we attain this stage of global well being however will depend on how well our business institutions adapt and change The Fourth Wave examines the ways business has changed in the second and third waves and must continue to change in the fourth The changes concern the basics how an institution is organized how it defines wealth how it relates to surrounding communities how it responds to environmental needs and how it takes part in the political process Maynard and Mehrtens foresee a radically different future in which business principles concern for the environment personal integrity and spiritual values are integrated The authors also demonstrate the need for a new kind of leadership managers and CEOs who embrace an attitude of global stewardship who define their assets as ideas information creativity and vision and who strive for seamless boundaries between work and private lives for all employees Care, Uncertainty and Intergenerational Ethics

C. Groves, 2014-12-02 Our capacity to reshape the future has never been more powerful Yet our ability to foresee the consequences of what we do has not kept pace Is the idea that we have responsibilities to future generations therefore meaningful This book argues that it is with the aid of a unique reading of the care ethics tradition Evolutionary Interpretations of World Politics William R. Thompson, 2016-05-06 The field of international relations is often stagnated in realism and liberalism Groundbreaking and guaranteed to stir debate this work will move the field of international relations beyond its current and often inadequate assumptions The contributors describe how states ideologies and other areas of analysis evolve conquer others or disappear entirely Change and the fluid nature of history though so clearly a part of historical reality are not so deeply embedded in other paradigms as they are in the variation and selection model of evolutionary international relations Some contributors lay out the various controversies inherent to the new theory while others apply the paradigm to specific problems in IR theory Regardless of the approach the presentation of this entirely new perspective and method succeeds in forming a new paradigm of international relations Contributors include William R Thompson George Modelski Vincent S E Falger David P Rapkin Jennifer Sterling Folker Hendrik Spruyt Stewart Patrick Paul Hensel Karen Rasler Craig N Murphy Jeffrey A Hart Sangbae and Brian Pollins The Capacity to Govern Yehezkel Dror, 2012-12-06 The inadequacies of contemporary forms of governance are increasingly recognized the brain drain from politics distrust of governments the danger of mass media and money dominated elections and the failure of governments to find good policy options on major issues Industry civil society and non governmental organizations however important cannot compensate for government s incapacity to shape the future which only it is democratically entitled to do Radical improvements in governance are urgently needed but salient proposals are scarce This book diagnoses contemporary governments as obsolete and proposes changes in values structures staffing public understanding and political culture to equip governance for the radically novel challenges of the 21st century This is the first Report dealing with governance commissioned and approved by the Club of Rome testifying to the significance of this book To Govern Evolution Walt Anderson,1987 Future Survey Annual 1986 Michael Marien,1987-01-01 Creator God, Evolving World Cynthia S. W. Crysdale,Neil Ormerod,2013-01-01 Cynthia Crysdale and Neil Ormerod here present a robust theology of God in light of supposed tensions between Christian belief and evolutionary science Those who pit faith in an almighty and unchanging God over against a world in which chance is operative have it wrong on several accounts they insist Creator God Evolving World clarifies a number of confused assumptions in an effort to redeem chance as an intelligible force interacting with stable patterns in nature A proper conception of probabilities and regularities in the world s unfolding reveals neither random chaos nor a predetermined blueprint but a view of the universe as the fruit of both chance and necessity By clarifying terms often used imprecisely in both scientific and theological discourse the authors make the case that the role of chance in evolution neither mitigates God s radical otherness from creation nor challenges the efficacy of God s providence in the world

Ozone Discourses Karen Litfin,1994 How can scientific knowledge be translated into political change Ozone Discourse examines the first global environment treaty the Montreal Protocol and its subsequent revisions which was a highly effective collaboration among scientists policymakers and activists The treaties were the work of a small group of experts who without conventional political or economic resources were able to persuade most of the world s nations to agree to reduce and then eliminate chlorofluorocarbons These experts used their understanding of atmospheric science to supplement the policymakers short term perspective with a wider intergenerational timeframe characteristic of global environmental problems Litfin argues that the discipline of international relations requires a broader conception of power in order to accomodate the knowledge based problems such as environmental degradation
