Tony Smith Not An Object Not A Monument:

Not an Object, Not a Monument Tony Smith, 2006 Not an Object, Not a Monument Tony Smith, Kiki Smith, 2007 Plates of all Tony Smith's large scale sculptures presented in chronological order and accompanied by texts by the artist The Return of the Real Hal Foster, 1996-09-25 In The Return of the Real Hal Foster discusses the development of art and theory since 1960 and reorders the relation between prewar and postwar avant gardes. Opposed to the assumption that contemporary art is somehow belated, he argues that the avant garde returns to us from the future repositioned by innovative practice in the present. And he poses this retroactive model of art and theory against the reactionary undoing of progressive culture that is pervasive today. After the models of art as text in the 1970s and art as simulacrum in the 1980s, Foster suggests that we are now witness to a return to the real to art and theory grounded in the materiality of actual bodies and social sites. If The Return of the Real begins with a new narrative of the historical avant garde, it concludes with an original reading of this contemporary situation and what it portends for future practices of art and theory, culture and politics.

Performing the Body/Performing the Text Amelia Jones, Andrew Stephenson Nfa, Andrew Stephenson, 2005-08-12 This book explores the new performativity in art theory and practice, examining ways of rethinking interpretive processes in visual culture. Since the 1960s, visual art practices from body art to minimalism have taken contemporary art outside the museum and gallery by embracing theatricality and performance and exploding the boundaries set by traditional art criticism. The contributors argue that interpretation needs to be recognised as much more dynamic and contingent. Offering its own performance script and embracing both canonical fine artists such as Manet, De Kooning and Jasper Johns and performance artists such as Vito Acconci and Gunter Brus, this book offers radical readings of art works and points confidently towards new models for understanding art.

Modern Sculpture Reader Jon Wood, David Hulks, Alex Potts, 2012-08-21 In many anthologies of art, sculpture is given short shrift in relation to other media if it is treated at all. Modern Sculpture Reader aims to rectify this situation by presenting a collection of important texts that have defined sculpture's radically changing status and role since the end of the nineteenth century, a time marked by a general reappraisal of the forms and functions of art. From the rigorously theoretical to the experimental and poetic, Modern Sculpture Reader offers a lively discourse on the medium by a range of artists, writers, critics and poets: Marcel Duchamp, Louise Bourgeois, Claes Oldenburg, Andr  Breton, Ezra Pound and Clement Greenberg, in a variety of genres: poems, lectures, transcribed interviews, newspaper and magazine articles and artists' statements. These diverse text selections offer valuable insight into the development of the critical language of sculpture and its connections to other media in an era of increasingly conceptual artistic practice. Many of the essays highlight key ongoing concerns such as sculpture's physical properties and conditions of display, both of which have important implications for the viewer's tactile and emotional interaction with sculptural works.
