An Inconvenient Truth Ashley E. Davis, 2025-01-23 Crime made Christ's death a necessity. A simple choice in lies and deceit, a lapse in moral character, a choice to commit a simple criminal act against the Creator paved the way for the cross. Jesus knew from before the beginning of creation that his death would atone for the lies, deceitfulness, and sinful choices of mankind. He knew and he still made a way for us to him. This book discusses the personal element of crime in relation to Christian religious principles that made the cross necessary while emphasizing the need for personal responsibility in light of criminological behavior.

Differentiating Instruction for At-Risk Students Rita Dunn, Andrea Honigsfeld, 2009 When the activities described herein are introduced to students whose learning styles they match most, will demonstrate strong abilities to learn and remember new and difficult content within the first four months of beginning, if not earlier. This book is written to prevent more children from becoming at risk and to help those who already have fallen behind their classmates and do not enjoy school.

, Fictive questions in the Zhuangzi Mingjian Xiang, 2023-05-15 Rhetoric is intimately related to interaction and cognition This book explores the cognitive underpinnings of rhetoric by presenting a case study of the rhetorical use of interactional structures namely expository questions and rhetorical questions in the classical Chinese tradition Such questions are generally meant to evoke silent answers in the addressee's mind thereby involving a fictive type of interaction The book analyzes fictive questions as intersubjective mixed viewpoint constructions involving a viewpoint blend of the perspectives of the writer the assumed prospective readers and possibly also that of the discourse characters The analysis further shows that in addition to attention other late developing human capacities such as mental simulation and perspective taking also have a pivotal role to play in rhetoric on the basis of which a simulation based rhetorical model of persuasion is proposed to account for meaning construction in rhetorical practices The book will influence our understanding of rhetorical practices outside the Western tradition but within the framework of cognitive semantics A2 Government and Politics:

Ideologies and Ideologies in Action Duncan Hall, The Continuum Companion to Religion and Film William L. Blizek, 2009-08-30 The definitive guide to the study of film and religion Handbook of Career Development Gideon Arulmani, Anuradha J. Bakshi, Frederick T. L. Leong, A. G. Watts, 2014-02-08 This book is focused on work occupation and career development themes that are fundamental to a wide range of human activities and relevant across all cultures Yet theorizing and model building about this most ubiquitous of human activities from international perspectives have not been vigorous An examination of the literature pertaining to career development counseling and guidance that has developed over the last fifty years reveals theorizing and model building have been largely dominated by Western epistemologies some of the largest workforces in the world are in the developing world Career guidance is rapidly emerging as a strongly felt need in these contexts If more relevant models are to be developed frameworks from other cultures and economies must be recognized as providing constructs that would offer a deeper understanding of career development This does not mean that existing ideas are to be discarded Instead an integrative approach that blends universal principles with particular needs could offer a framework for theorizing research and practice that has wider relevance The central objective of this handbook is to draw the wisdom and experiences of different cultures together to consider both universal and specific principles for career guidance and counseling that are socially and economically relevant to contemporary challenges and issues This book is focused on extending existing concepts to broader contexts as well as introducing new concepts relevant to the discipline of career guidance and counseling

The Environmental Documentary John A. Duvall, 2017-05-18 The Environmental Documentary provides the first extensive coverage of the most important environmental films of the decade including their approach to their topics and their impacts on public opinion and political debate While documentaries with themes of environmental activism date back at least to Pare Lorenz's films of the 1930s no previous decade has produced the number and quality of films that engage environmental issues from an activist viewpoint The convergence of high profile issues like climate change fossil fuel depletion animal abuse and corporate malfeasance has combined with the miniaturization of high quality recording equipment and the expansion of documentary programming to produce an unprecedented number of important and influential documentary productions The text examines the processes of production and distribution that have produced this explosion in documentaries The films range from a high profile Hollywood production with theatrical distribution like An Inconvenient Truth to shorter independently produced films like The End of Suburbia that have reached a small audience of activists through video distribution interviews with many of the filmmakers and word of mouth

Data Feminism Catherine D'Ignazio, Lauren F. Klein, 2023-10-03 Cutting edge strategies for thinking about data science and data ethics through an intersectional feminist lens Without ever finger wagging Data Feminism reveals inequities and offers a way out of a broken system in which the numbers are allowed to lie WIRED Today data science is a form of power It has been used to expose injustice improve health outcomes and topple governments But it has also been used to discriminate police and surveil This potential for good on the one hand and harm on the other makes it essential to ask Data science by whom Data science for whom Data science with whose interests in mind The narratives around big data and data science are overwhelmingly white male and techno heroic In Data Feminism Catherine D'Ignazio and Lauren Klein present a new way of thinking about data science and data ethics one that is informed by intersectional feminist thought Illustrating data feminism in action D'Ignazio and Klein show how challenges to the male female binary can help challenge other hierarchical and empirically wrong classification systems They explain how for example an understanding of emotion can expand our ideas about effective data visualization and how the concept of invisible labor can expose the significant human efforts required by our automated systems And they show why the data never ever speak for themselves Data Feminism offers strategies for data scientists seeking to learn how feminism can help them work toward justice and for feminists who want to focus their efforts on the growing field of data science But Data Feminism is about much more than gender It is about power about who has it and who doesn't and about how those differentials of power can be challenged and changed

The Honest Politician's Guide to Prisons and Probation Roy D. King, Lucy Willmott, 2021-11-29 Through a comprehensive analysis of legislative and organisational changes and interviews with all the key players The Honest Politician's Guide to Prisons and Probation provides an authoritative account of the crisis which has gradually engulfed the prison and probation services since 1991

Setting out the nature and extent of the crisis King and Willmott show how the Woolf agenda was overridden in a process of political churn through explorations of the Conservative government until 1997 New Labour from 1997 to 2010 and the Coalition and Conservative governments since 2010 Uniquely interviews with all surviving Home Secretaries and Justice Secretaries of the period include insightful and candid reflections upon their time in office and how they saw the future Views from both inside and outside the prisons and probation services are also explored based on interviews with the Director Generals of the Prison Service and of the new National Probation Service Chief Inspectors of Prisons and Probation and the four most recent Lord Chief Justices including Lord Woolf himself Concluding by drawing on this collective wisdom King and Willmott set out what is needed for an effective and sustainable future It is essential reading not just for those in Westminster but also for practitioners in criminal justice advocacy organisations thinktanks and scholars and students in Criminology Criminal Justice British Politics and Public Policy Questions Communicated by Lord Overstone to the innovative Common Sense Club radio program shows how everyday Americans just like you are making a difference for our country's future. This down to earth handbook gives you clear practical effective actions you can take to preserve the American dream for your children and grandchildren. President Ronald Reagan once said All great change in America begins at the dinner table. Today most Americans struggle just to keep food on the dinner table. We are staggering under a crushing burden of big government out of control spending and towering federal debt. We have become tax slaves and the people we sent to Washington to represent us are the very ones who sold us there. We're angry and rightly so. But ruling class politicians have shrugged off our grassroots anger calling it Astroturf. We're tired of being ignored patronized and lied to by the very people who are supposed to be our public servants. Not since the original Boston Tea Party of 1773 have so many everyday Americans participated in such a significant display of righteous indignation and freedom loving patriotism. For the first time in generations ordinary hardworking church going Americans are carrying signs gathering in large numbers and making their voices heard. Big government beware. A sleeping giant has awakened. Scott Hennen has drawn up a practical blueprint for change a handbook for all of us who are ready to roll up our sleeves and do our part to restore America's goodness and greatness. Grass Roots is a political manifesto for every American who loves liberty and cares enough to get involved.
