Worldviews And Ecology Religion Philosophy And The Environment Ecology And Justice Series:

Worldviews and Ecology Mary Evelyn Tucker, John A. Grim, 1993 Worldviews and Ecology Mary Evelyn Tucker, John Grim, 1994 Amidst the many voices clamoring to interpret the environmental crisis some of the most important are the voices of religious traditions Long before modernity's industrialism began the rape of Earth premodern religious and philosophical traditions mediated to untold generations the wisdom of living as a part of nature These traditions can illuminate and empower wiser ways of postmodern living The original writings of Worldviews and Ecology creatively present and interpret worldviews of major religious and philosophical traditions on how humans can live more sustainably on a fragile planet Contributors include Charlene Spretnak Larry Rasmussen Noel Brown Jay McDaniel Tu Wei Ming Thomas Berry David Ray Griffin J Baird Callicott Eric Katz Roger E Timm Robert A White Christopher Key Chapple Brian Swimme Brian Brown Michael Tobias Ralph Metzner George Sessions and Mary Evelyn Tucker and John Grim Insights from traditions as diverse as Jain Jewish ecofeminist deep ecology Christian Hindu Bahai and Whiteheadian will interest all who seek an honest analysis of what religious and philosophical traditions have to say to a modernity whose consciousness and conscience seems tragically narrow the source of attitudes that imperil the biosphere Bonhoeffer and Climate Change Dianne Rayson, 2021-05-25 Where is the voice of theology in the public discourse around anthropogenic climate change How do we understand the human relationship to Earth and the ecology of which we are a part How can we account for the human attempt to dominate nature and the devastation we have caused to our own home Dianne Rayson addresses these questions She uses the creation theology of Dietrich Bonhoeffer to examine what it means to be human in the post Holocene age Employing a range of Bonhoeffer's texts Rayson posits that Bonhoeffer's Christological theology and this worldly ethical orientation provide the tools for an Earthly Christianity She responds to Bonhoeffer's question who actually is Jesus Christ for us today and proposes a Bonhoefferian ecoethic Inherited Land Whitney A. Bauman, Richard R. Bohannon II, Kevin J. O'Brien, 2011-08-04 Religion and ecology has arrived What was once a niche interest for a few academics concerned with environmental issues and a few environmentalists interested in religion has become an established academic field with classic texts graduate programs regular meetings at academic conferences and growing interest from other academics and the mass media Theologians ethicists sociologists and other scholars are engaged in a broad dialogue about the ways religious studies can help understand and address environmental problems including the sorts of methodological terminological and substantive debates that characterize any academic discourse This book recognizes the field that has taken shape reflects on the ways it is changing and anticipates its development in the future The essays offer analyses and reflections from emerging scholars of religion and ecology each addressing her or his own specialty in light of two questions 1 What have we inherited from the work that has come before us and 2 What inquiries concerns and conversation partners should be central to the next generation of scholarship The aim of this volume is not to lay out a single and clear path forward for the field Rather the authors critically reflect on the field from within outline some of the major issues we face in the academy and offer perspectives that will nurture continued dialogue

Religions in the Making John B. Cobb Jr., 2012-11-06 Whitehead had a place for God in his comprehensive cosmological vision and his theism has long attracted interest from some Christian theologians But Whitehead's ideas have much wider use Some Buddhists have found help in articulating their nontheistic vision and relating it to the current world of thought and action In this book religious writers in seven different traditions articulate how they can benefit from Whitehead's work So this volume demonstrates that various features of his thought can contribute to many communities According to his followers Whitehead shows that the deepest convictions and commitments of the major religious communities can be complementary rather than in conflict Readers of this book will see how that plays out in some detail A Whiteheadian Hindu can recognize the truth in a Whiteheadian Judaism and both can appreciate the insights of Chinese Whiteheadians committed to their classical thinking Perhaps a new day in interreligious understanding has come

The Christian Future and the Fate of Earth Thomas Berry, 2011-03-01 This title collects Berry's signature views on the interconnectedness of both Earth's future and the Christian future He ponders why Christians have been late in coming to the issue of the environment

Christian Faith and the Environment Brennan R. Hill, 2007-03-16 Although the environmental crisis has been recognized as an international threat Christian attempts to reconcile their religious traditions and the earth are just beginning Christian Faith and the Environment challenges churches to take a stand for environmental concerns Hill explores how twentieth century theologians such as Karl Rahner Bernard Lonergan and Pierre Teilhard de Chardin have taught Christians to build bridges between Christianity and creation Examining sacramental rites church documents and feminist theological insights on ecology Hill outlines a Christian environmental spirituality and traces the ethical challenges posed by our new awareness of our environment

This Is Hope: Green Vegans and the New Human Ecology Will Anderson, 2013-03-29 This is Hope compares the outcomes of two human ecologies one is tragic the other is full of promise As Will explains in his Introduction Our human ecology is the expression of everything we do and is represented by every interaction we have on earth it consists of the multitude of relationships we have with other people other species and our physical environment He describes our current human ecology in depth to illustrate how we are living inappropriately cruelly and unsustainably This is obsolete and has been for a long time it is the cause of our overpopulation our overconsumption of resources the poverty of ecosystems and people and our disregard for the rights of individuals from other species This is Hope proposes a new human ecology to replace it

Ecologies of Grace Willis Jenkins, 2013-02-12 Christianity struggles to show how living on earth matters for living with God While people of faith increasingly seek practical ways to respond to the environmental crisis theology has had difficulty contextualizing the crisis and interpreting the responses In Ecologies of Grace Willis Jenkins presents a field shaping introduction to Christian environmental ethics that offers resources for renewing theology Observing how religious environmental practices often draw on concepts of grace

Jenkins maps the way Christian environmental strategies draw from traditions of salvation as they engage the problems of environmental ethics. He then uses this new map to explore afresh the ecological dimensions of Christian theology. Jenkins first shows how Christian ethics uniquely frames environmental issues and then how those approaches both challenge and reinhabit theological traditions. He identifies three major strategies for making environmental problems intelligible to Christian moral experience. Each one draws on a distinct pattern of grace as it adapts a secular approach to environmental ethics. The strategies of ecojustice, stewardship, and ecological spirituality make environments matter for Christian experience by drawing on patterns of sanctification, redemption, and deification. He then confronts the problems of each of these strategies through critical reappraisals of Thomas Aquinas, Karl Barth, and Sergei Bulgakov. Each represents a soteriological tradition which Jenkins explores as an ecology of grace, letting environmental questions guide investigation into how nature becomes significant for Christian experience. By being particularly sensitive to the ways in which environmental problems are made intelligible to Christian moral experience, Jenkins guides his readers toward a fuller understanding of Christianity and ecology. He not only makes sense of the variety of Christian environmental ethics but by showing how environmental issues come to the heart of Christian experience, prepares fertile ground for theological renewal. Cry of the Earth, Cry of the Poor Leonardo Boff, 1997. Focusing on the threatened Amazon of his native Brazil, Boff traces the economic and metaphysical ties that bind the fate of the rain forests with the fate of the indigenous peoples and the poor of the land. He shows how liberation theology must join with ecology in reclaiming the dignity of the earth and our sense of a common community, part of God's creation. To illustrate the possibilities, Boff turns to resources in Christian spirituality, both ancient and modern, from the vision of St. Francis of Assisi to cosmic christology.
