The Upstairs Room Trophy Newbery:

The Upstairs Room (rack) Johanna Reiss, 1987-07-17 A Life in Hiding When the German army occupied Holland Annie de Leeuw was eight years old Because she was Jewish the occupation put her in grave danger she knew that to stay alive she would have to hide Fortunately a Gentile family the Oostervelds offered to help For two years they hid Annie and her sister Sini in the cramped upstairs room of their farmhouse Most people thought the war wouldn't last long But for Annie and Sini separated from their family and confined to one tiny room the war seemed to go on forever In the part of the marketplace where flowers had been sold twice a week tulips in the spring roses in the summer stood German tanks and German soldiers Annie de Leeuw was eight years old in 1940 when the Germans attacked Holland and marched into the town of Winterswijk where she lived Annie was ten when because she was Jewish and in great danger of being captured by the invaders she and her sister Sini had to leave their father mother and older sister Rachel to go into hiding in the upstairs room of a remote farmhouse Johanna de Leeuw Reiss has written a remarkably fresh and moving account of her own experiences as a young girl during World War II Like many adults she was innocent of the German plans for Jews and she might have gone to a labor camp as scores of families did It won't be for long and the Germans have told us we'll be treated well those families said What can happen They did not know and they could not imagine But millions of Jews found out Mrs Reiss's picture of the Oosterveld family with whom she lived and of Annie and Sini reflects a deep spirit of optimism a faith in the ingenuity backbone and even humor with which ordinary human beings meet extraordinary challenges In the steady matter of fact day by day courage they all showed lies a profound strength that transcends the horrors of the long and frightening war Here is a memorable book one that will be read and reread for years to come 1973 Newbery Honor Book Notable Children's Books of 1971 1975 ALA Best Books of 1972 SLJ Outstanding Children's Books of 1972 NYT 1973 Jane Addams Award Honor Book Children's Books of 1972 Library of Congress The Buxtehude Bulla Prize 1976 German Award for Outstanding Children's Book Promoting Peace 1972 Jewish Book Council Children's Book Award
