The War At Home World War II Story:

The Kids Talk World War II Judy Hain, 2019-08-26 I was born on Father's Day June 15 1945 Dad was in Germany Mom sent him a picture of the birth announcement Years later she would give me a box containing memories Among the papers I found ration stamps that had my name on them I asked her how they were used but she couldn't remember everything That created in me a curiosity I wanted to know more about what life was like in the United States during WWII The sources for this material came from people I met on airplanes trains nursing and retirement communities dinners just conversation Whoever would share with me what they remembered The Complete Home Learning Sourcebook Rebecca Rupp, 1998

Lists all the resources needed to create a balanced curriculum for homeschooling from preschool to high school level The War Geoffrey C. Ward, Ken Burns, 2020-02-04 The vivid voices that speak from these pages are not those of historians or scholars They are the voices of ordinary men and women who experienced and helped to win the most devastating war in history in which between 50 and 60 million lives were lost Focusing on the citizens of four towns Luverne Minnesota Sacramento California Waterbury Connecticut Mobile Alabama The War follows more than forty people from 1941 to 1945 Woven largely from their memories the compelling unflinching narrative unfolds month by bloody month with the outcome always in doubt All the iconic events are here from Pearl Harbor to the liberation of the concentration camps but we also move among prisoners of war and Japanese American internees defense workers and schoolchildren and families who struggled simply to stay together while their men were shipped off to Europe the Pacific and North Africa Enriched by maps and hundreds of photographs including many never published before this is an intimate profoundly affecting chronicle of the war that shaped our world From the Hardcover edition World War II Goes to the Movies & Television Guide

American Women During World War II Doris Weatherford, 2009-10-16 American Women during World War II documents the lives and stories of women who contributed directly to the war effort via official and semi official military organizations as well as the millions of women who worked in civilian defense industries ranging from aircraft maintenance to munitions manufacturing and much more It also illuminates how the war changed the lives of women in more traditional home front roles All women had to cope with rationing of basic household goods and most women volunteered in war related programs Other entries discuss institutional change as the war affected every aspect of life including as schools hospitals and even religion American Women during World War II provides a handy one volume collection of information and images suitable for any public or professional library

Secret Weapons and World War II Walter E. Grunden, 2005 Grunden's analysis of this fundamental flaw in the Japanese war effort seamlessly weaves together science technology and military history to provide an entirely unique look at a crucial but understudied aspect of World War II Comparing the science and weapons programs of all the major combatants he demonstrates that Japan's failure was nearly inevitable given its paucity of strategic resources an inadequate industrial base the absence of effective centralized management to coordinate research military hostility toward civilian scientists and bitter interservice rivalries In the end Japan could not overcome these obstacles and thus failed to make the transition to the kind of Big Science it needed to ward off its enemies and dominate the Far East
