

A swan is captured in flight, its wings spread wide, against a clear blue sky. Below the bird, a wide, sandy beach stretches across the frame, with gentle waves lapping at the shore. In the background, a dark, silhouetted cliff rises from the water's edge. The overall scene is peaceful and evocative of a summer day.

Cronin, Simone Drichel, 2009 This collection of essays draws on critical frameworks to explore fresh ways of looking at Frame s fiction poetry and autobiography At the same time the essays plug into the energy of Frame s work to challenge our thinking within and beyond these frameworks Frameworks offers a perspective on Frame studies today showcasing its major concerns as well as heralding new narratives for the decade ahead Mindful of preceding Frame criticism these essays use their contemporary vantage point to recast seminal questions about the relationship between Janet Frame s work and its critical contexts

Shrinking Violets Joe Moran, 2017-02-21 The author of Armchair Nation and On Roads examines shyness in a sparkling cultural history ranging from Jane Austen to Silicon Valley The Guardian Shyness is a pervasive human trait even most extroverts know what it is like to stand tongue tied at the fringe of an unfamiliar group or flush with embarrassment at being the unwelcome center of attention And yet the cultural history of shyness has remained largely unwritten until now With incisiveness passion and humor Joe Moran offers an eclectic and original exploration of what it means to be a shrinking violet Along the way he provides a collective biography of shyness through portraits of such shy individuals as Charles Darwin Charles Schulz Garrison Keillor and Agatha Christie among many others In their stories often both heartbreaking and inspiring and through the myriad ways scientists and thinkers have tried to explain and cure shyness Moran finds hope To be shy he decides is not simply a burden it is also a gift a different way of seeing the world that can be both enriching and inspiring Fantastic and involving A feat of empathy Every page radiates understanding every paragraph its shy author's gentle wit The Observer Whether you're boldly outgoing or reticent and self-effacing you'll find something to inspire inform or surprise in this thoughtful beautifully written and vividly detailed cultural history Susan Cain New York Times bestselling author of Quiet

Social Practices Chris Kraus, 2018-12-11 Essays on and around art and art practices by the author of I Love Dick A border isn't a metaphor Knowing each other for over a decade makes us witnesses to each other's lives My escape is his prison We meet in a bar and smoke Marlboros from Social Practices Mixing biography autobiography fiction criticism and conversations among friends with Social Practices Chris Kraus continues the anthropological exploration of artistic lives and the art world begun in 2004 with Video Green Los Angeles Art and the Triumph of Nothingness Social Practices includes writings from and around the legendary Chance Event Three Days in the Desert with Jean Baudrillard 1996 and Radical Localism an exhibition of art and media from Puerto Nuevo's Mexicali Rose that Kraus co-organized with Marco Vera and Richard Birkett in 2012 Attuned to the odd and the anomalous Kraus profiles Elias Fontes an Imperial Valley hay merchant who has become an important collector of contemporary Mexican art and chronicles the demise of a rural convenience store in northern Minnesota She considers the work of such major contemporary artists as Jason Rhoades Channa Horowitz Simon Denny Yayoi Kusama Henry Taylor Julie Becker Ryan McGinley and Leigh Ledare Although Kraus casts a skeptical eye at the genre that's come to be known as social practice her book is less a critique than a proposition as to how art might be read through desire and circumstance delirium gossip coincidence and revenge All art she implies is a social practice      The Lost Child in Literature and Culture Mark Froud, 2017-10-18 This book is an extensive study of the figure of the lost child in English speaking and European literature and culture It argues that the lost child figure is of profound importance for our society a symptom as well as a cause of deep trauma This trauma or void is a fundamental disruption of the structures that define us self history and even language This puts the figure of the child in context with previous research that the modern conception of a child was formed alongside modern conceptions of memory The book analyses the representation of the lost child through fairy tales historical oppression and in recent novels and films The book then studies the connection of the lost child figure with the uncanny and its centrality to language The book considers the lost child figure as an archetype on a metaphysical and philosophical level as well as cultural      Antipodean Childhoods Helga Ramsey-Kurz, Ulla Ratheiser, 2020-05-15 Though obvious the productiveness of combining the three concepts of childhood otherness and the postcolonial has not inspired much academic inquiry so far The essays assembled in this book make up for this omission and address aspects of growing up in Australia and New Zealand from various angles They base their argument on the premise that whether in settler migrant or indigenous communities children tend to be ascribed a space of their own mostly outside but never independent of that of adults How adults configure this space both practically and imaginatively for instance in the arts in adult and children s literature in film and photography or in historical documents is one of the questions answered in the process How these configurations have developed with time and under the influence of specific historical circumstances is another Thus the individual papers are more than a contribution to the current re discovery of the theme of childhood in European cultures in that Antipodean Childhoods remains centrally concerned with the cultural specificity of childhoods lived in Australia and New Zealand and with the theoretical relevance of this specificity to postcolonial literary cultural and historical studies      Chasing Butterflies Vanessa Guignery, 2011 In 1951 Janet Frame published her first book The Lagoon and Other Stories a collection which would win the most prestigious national literary award in New Zealand and launch her fascinating career The essays collected in this volume examine the motifs at work in Frame s short stories and unravel a unique literary world which revisits the realist tradition and grants prose a poetic dimension As much a reflexion about language voice modes of writing and narrative strategies as an analysis of Frame s recurrent concerns with identity childhood relationships between mothers and daughters secrecy marginality community or death Chasing Butterflies is a great tribute to one of the most famous New Zealand writers
