Modeling, Analysis and Enhancement of the performance of a Wind Driven DFIG During steady state and transient conditions Mohmoud Mossa,2014-02-01 Recently wind electrical power systems are getting a lot of attention since they are cost competitive environmentally clean and safe renewable power source as compared with the fossil fuel and nuclear power generation A special type of induction generator called a doubly fed induction generator DFIG is used extensively for high power wind applications They are used more and more in wind turbine applications due to the ease of controllability the high energy efficiency and the improved power quality This research aims to develop a method of a field orientation scheme for control both the active and the reactive powers of a DFIG that are driven by a wind turbine Also the dynamic model of the DFIG driven by a wind turbine during grid faults is analyzed and developed using the method of symmetrical components Finally this study proposes a novel fault ride through FRT capability with a suitable control strategy i e the ability of the power system to remain connected to the grid during faults Federal Energy Regulatory Commission Reports United States. Federal Energy Regulatory Commission,2005-04
