Remythologizing Theology Kevin J. Vanhoozer, 2010-01-14 The rise of modern science and the proclaimed death of God in the nineteenth century led to a radical questioning of divine action and authorship Bultmann's celebrated demythologizing Remythologizing Theology moves in another direction that begins by taking seriously the biblical accounts of God's speaking It establishes divine communicative action as the formal and material principle of theology and suggests that interpersonal dialogue rather than impersonal causality is the keystone of God's relationship with the world This original contribution to the theology of divine action and authorship develops a fresh vision of Christian theism It also revisits several long standing controversies such as the relations of God's sovereignty to human freedom time to eternity and suffering to love Groundbreaking and thought provoking it brings theology into fruitful dialogue with philosophy literary theory and biblical studies

Center Church Timothy Keller, 2012-09-04 Practical and Gospel centered thoughts on how to have a fruitful ministry by one of America's leading and most beloved pastor Many church leaders are struggling to adapt to a culture that values individuality above loyalty to a group or institution There have been so many church growth and effective ministry books in the past few decades that it's hard to know where to start or which ones will provide useful and honest insight Based on over twenty years of ministry in New York City Timothy Keller takes a unique approach that measures a ministry's success neither by numbers nor purely by the faithfulness of its leaders but on the biblical grounds of fruitfulness Center Church outlines a balanced theological vision for ministry organized around three core commitments Gospel centered The gospel of grace in Jesus Christ changes everything from our hearts to our community to the world It completely reshapes the content tone and strategy of all that we do City centered With a positive approach toward our culture we learn to affirm that cities are wonderful strategic and underserved places for gospel ministry Movement centered Instead of building our own tribe we seek the prosperity and peace of our community as we are led by the Holy Spirit Between a pastor's doctrinal beliefs and ministry practices should be a well conceived vision for how to bring the gospel to bear on the particular cultural setting and historical moment This is something more practical than just doctrine but much more theological than how to steps for carrying out a ministry Once this vision is in place it leads church leaders to make good decisions on how to worship disciple evangelize serve and engage culture in their field of ministry whether in a city suburb or small town Tim Keller Core Church

Redeeming Transcendence in the Arts Jeremy Begbie, 2018-06-30 How can the arts witness to the transcendence of the Christian God It is widely believed that there is something transcendent about the arts that they can awaken a profound sense of awe wonder and mystery of something beyond this world Many argue that this opens up fruitful opportunities for conversation with those who may have no use for conventional forms of Christianity Jeremy Begbie a leading voice on theology and the arts in this book employs a biblical trinitarian imagination to show how Christian involvement in the arts can and should be shaped by a vision of God's transcendence revealed in the person of Jesus Christ After critiquing some current writing on the subject he goes on to offer rich resources to help readers engage constructively with the contemporary cultural moment even as they bear witness to the otherness and uncontainability of the triune God of love

Green, David I. Starling, 2018-07-11 Do revelation and reason contradict Throughout the church's history Christians have been tempted to make revelation and reason mutually exclusive But both are essential to a true understanding of the faith The inaugural Theology Connect conference held in Sydney in July 2016 was dedicated to surveying the intersection of revelation and reason In Revelation and Reason in Christian Theology Christopher C Green and David I Starling draw together the fruit of this conference to provoke sustained deep reflection on this relationship The essays filtered through epistemological biblical historical and dogmatic lenses critically and constructively contribute to this important and developing aspect of theology Each essayist approaches revelation and reason according to the psalmist's words In your light we see light Ps 36 9 The light of faith does not obscure truth rather it enables us to see truth The Church in Mission Bertil Ekström, 2016-06-01 Foundations and Global Case Studies What does it mean today to be a church totally committed to the gospel and fully engaged in God's mission What major religious and sociological trends in our world are affecting the role of the global church and local churches How must we understand and be prepared to face these trends How do we define church in the twenty first century being faithful to the Scriptures and at the same time relevant to a generation that does not believe in the institutional church anymore What are some good models of missional churches in different regions of the world that will encourage and inspire those who long to see a church making difference in society and in the world These are some of the issues that the book you are holding in your hands addresses There are certainly no final answers and magical forms rather we present a broad and deep discussion on how the gospel should be lived out by Jesus followers in our time and through our communities Questions are raised and analyzed both from the perspective of a local church as well as from a global and general understanding of the Christian church Some of our examples will focus more on local realities others more on global challenges The first part of the book is dedicated to a biblical and theological reflection on gospel church and mission It includes Old and New Testament studies on the theological implications of being church based on the biblical narrative The second part deals with a variety of contemporary missiological issues related to the broader theme of church and mission Different perspectives from current discussions and dialogues around the globe are included covering both ideological reflections and practical aspects of being a mission shaped church The third part presents regional and national case studies that show the enormous creativity in church planting and engagement of local communities in their own societies Models applied in the secularized Europe are contrasted to ways of functioning as church
