To The Last Breath A Memoir Of Going To Extremes:

To the Last Breath Francis Slakey, 2012-05-08 A journey to the most extreme points on Earth and deep inside the human spirit Before Georgetown physics professor Francis Slakey decided to climb the highest mountain on every continent and surf every ocean he had shut himself off from other people His lectures were mechanical his relationships were little more than ways to fill the evenings But as his journey veered dangerously off course everything about him began to change A gripping adventure of the body and mind To the Last Breath depicts the quest that leads Slakey around the globe almost takes his life challenges his fiercely held beliefs and opens his heart The scientist in Slakey explores the history of Robert Falcon Scott's doomed Antarctica expedition the technology of climbing and the geophysics of waves But it is the challenges he endures and the people he encounters a Lama who gives him a mysterious amulet a life or death choice atop Everest an ambush at gunpoint in Indonesia a head on collision in the high desert that culminate in a moving lesson about what it means to be human

The American Adrenaline Narrative Kristin J. Jacobson, 2020-06-01 The American Adrenaline Narrative considers the nature of perilous outdoor adventure tales their gendered biases and how they simultaneously promote and hinder ecological sustainability To explore these themes Kristin J Jacobson defines and compares adrenaline narratives by a range of American authors published after the first Earth Day in 1970 a time frame selected as a watershed moment for the contemporary American environmental movement The forty plus years since that day also mark the rise in the popularity and marketing of many things as extreme including sports jobs travel beverages gum makeovers laundry detergent and even the environmental movement itself Jacobson maps the American eco imagination via adrenaline narratives grounding them in the traditional literary practice of close reading analysis and in ecofeminism She surveys a range of popular and lesser known primary texts by American authors including best selling books such as Jon Krakauer's Into Thin Air and Aron Ralston's Between a Rock and a Hard Place and lesser known texts such as Patricia C McCairen's Canyon Solitude Eddy L Harris's Mississippi Solo and Stacy Allison's Beyond the Limits She also discusses such narratives as they appear in print and online articles and magazines feature length and short films television shows amateur videos social networking site posts fiction advertising and blogs Jacobson contends that these stories constitute a distinctive genre because unlike traditional nature travel and sports writing adrenaline narratives sustain heightened risk or the element of the extreme within a natural setting Additionally these narratives provide important insight into the American environmental imagination's connection to masculinity and adventure knowledge that helps us grasp the current climate crisis and how narrative understanding provides a needed intervention
