University Of Kzn Application Form 2015:

Disrupting Higher Education Curriculum Michael Anthony Samuel, Rubby Dhunpath, Nyna Amin, 2017-05-10

Discomfort with the inappropriateness of university curricula has met with increasing calls for disruptive actions to revitalise higher education. This book conceived to envision an alternative emancipatory curriculum explores the historical ideological philosophical and theoretical domains of higher education curricula. The authors acknowledge that universities have been and continue to be complicit in perpetuating cognitive damage through symbolic violence associated with indifference to the pernicious effects of race categorisation, gender inequalities, poverty, rising unemployment and cultural hegemony as they continue to frame curricula, cultures and practices. The book contemplates the project of undoing cognitive damage, offering glimpses to redesign curriculum in the 21st century. The contributors, international scholars, emergent and expert researchers, include different nationalities, orientations and positionalities, constituting an interdisciplinary ensemble which collectively provides a rich commentary on higher education curriculum as we know it and where we think it could be in the future. The edited volume is a catalytic tool for disrupting canonised rituals of practice in higher education. It has been a while since a scholarly book so authoritative in its claims and innovative in its concepts threatens to shake up the curriculum field at its foundations. Rich in metaphor and meaning, the superbly written chapters challenge a field that once more became moribund as we settled so far too comfortably into accepting handed-down frames and fictions about knowledge, authority, power and agency that imprint cognitive damage on those forced to the margins of schools and universities. Disrupting Higher Education Curriculum demonstrates, however, that it is in fact from those margins of the education enterprise that academics, teachers and learners can see more clearly how patterns of thought and action hold us back from placing and experiencing our African humanity at the centre of the curriculum. Jonathan Jansen, Rector and Vice Chancellor of the University of the Free State, South Africa.

International Climate Change Law Daniel Bodansky, Jutta Brunnée, Lavanya Rajamani, 2017-06-08. This textbook by three experts in the field provides a comprehensive overview of international climate change law. Climate change is one of the fundamental challenges facing the world today and is the cause of significant international concern. In response, states have created an international climate regime. The treaties that comprise the regime: the 1992 United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, the 1997 Kyoto Protocol and the 2015 Paris Agreement, establish a system of governance to address climate change and its impacts. This book provides a clear analytical guide to the climate regime as well as other relevant international legal rules. The book begins by locating international climate change law within the broader context of international law and international environmental law. It considers the evolution of the international climate change regime and the process of law making that has led to it. It examines the key provisions of the Framework Convention, the Kyoto Protocol and the Paris Agreement. It analyses the principles and obligations that underpin the climate regime as well as the elaborate institutional and governance architecture that has been created at successive international conferences to develop commitments and promote transparency and compliance The final two chapters address the polycentric nature of international climate change law as well as the intersections of international climate change law with other areas of international regulation This book is an essential introduction to international climate change law for students scholars and negotiators

The Economics of Regional Integration Sándor Gyula Nagy, 2025-03-12 This book develops a new methodological framework for measuring the efficiency of regional integration and the integration profile of member states It includes rich case studies which offer a comparative analysis of ten integrations spanning four continents The Americas the European Union Africa and Asia The Economics of Regional Integration shows the importance of regional economic integration in the world economy based partially on descriptive analyses the authors new methodological framework and a new composite index integration profile It implements and quantifies relevant theories e g integration maturity competitiveness economic development convergence to one framework and a composite indicator This helps to arrive at a more precise measurement of these integrations resulting in useful feedback for decision makers and leading to policy recommendations for each organisation to improve efficiency or to include new members The text presents a comparative perspective of regional integration based on case studies by applying the same theoretical framework and a comprehensive methodology for assessing the economic readiness of membership seeking countries while also considering regional differences It investigates the impact of regional integration on income inequality and poverty reduction by examining how common development economic policies and social programs implemented by regional organizations affect the distribution of income and wealth among member states The comprehensive investigation of regional integration covering economic social and institutional factors makes the book highly relevant for advanced students researchers and scholars Additionally its potential policy context application makes it useful for policymakers and practitioners participating in regional integration programs
