Female Pakistani Fiction. A Critical Approach Matthias Dickert, 2015-09-17 Scientific Essay from the year 2015 in the subject Literature Asia Comenius

University in Bratislava language English abstract This book is an introduction into female Pakistani Fiction It starts with some sort of background information on the catchphrase Pakistani Fiction in order to place the female aspect into its literary background A second step lies in a description of the position of this literary concept within Postcolonial Writing which is marked and shaped by so many different cultural and religious elements The short analysis of two selected novels Ice Candy Man 1991 by Bapsi Sidhwa and Brick Lane 2003 by Monica Ali should help to show how female Pakistani writers deal with female matters This literary reflection will be supported by three parameters which can be found in many novels dealing with this subject The talk is about gender diaspora and globalization all of which are used to portray female characters The end will consist of some sort of outlook where Pakistani Fiction stands at the moment and where its trends might go to

National and individual Muslim Trauma. The collision of Islam and American neocapitalist thinking in Nadeem Aslams "The Blind Man's Garden" Matthias Dickert, 2020-02-28 Scientific Essay from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature Comenius University in Bratislava language English abstract South Asian literature is a literary term closely connected to countries like India Pakistan Sri Lanka Nepal Bhutan the Maldives or Bangladesh Afghanistan here holds an outside position because of the fact that Afghan writers at home face an extremely difficult situation So it is mostly the exile position from which they write about their country Afghanistan nevertheless is often picked by migrant writers as a setting of their novels because it is ideal to reflect the 9 11 development for both character development or plot It is therefore logical that this country is not only a neglected part of South Asian literature it is also hardly mentioned by critics It is simply speaking difficult to label Afghan writing as colonial or neo colonial writing Many Muslim writers sometimes make use of female characters as being central parts for the narrative it is interesting to note that the female presentation plays a marginal role in history making or in the sense of ordering and interpreting past and present thus theorizing matters in general However growing female issues in many novels such as oppression prostitution rape domestic violence or birth control slowly seem to change the traditional female role as being inferior to man This present trend is not only seen by feminist anthropologists Western radical feminists or gender studies but also more and more by writers from both sexes Thus matters like patriarchy culture class religion or nation are newly discussed making South Asian Literature an extremely energetic field of contemporary migrant writing They fulfill that what other critics see in three areas while reading postcolonial contexts The first area they reflect is reading texts produced by writers from countries with a history of colonies The second element they discuss lies in the fact they write texts produced by those that have migrated from countries with a history of colonialism or those descended from migrant families And the last area they cover lies in the fact that they are re reading texts produced during colonialism addressing the imperial experience or not So one can conclude from this that South Asian literature has become not only one important element of Postcolonial writing it also includes many political aspects which are of importance for this essay Amar Bail 'Umairah Ahmad, 2014 La Hasil

‘Umairah Aḥmad, Yasmin Qureshi, 2011 Man-o-salwa ‘Umairah Aḥmad, 2015 The Perfect Mentor (PBUH) Umera Ahmad, 2022-02-03

The story's protagonist Imama Hashim belongs to an influential Ahmadiyya Muslim family living in Islamabad. She decides to convert to Sunni Islam after being influenced by her friends. She attends her senior shabiha's lectures in secrecy from her family and her roommates Javeria and Rabia. While studying in a medical school in Lahore, she falls in love with her friend Zainab's elder brother, doctor Jalal Ansar. But Imama's family tries to coerce her into marrying her first cousin Asjad, which is unacceptable to her. Her parents respond by grounding her and taking away her cellphone. Imama seeks help from Salar, whom she is antagonistic with, since she is a religious girl and Salar is not. He is a rich boy with an IQ level above 150. Imama wishes to marry Jalal, but Salar lies to her that Jalal has married someone else. Imama is saddened and asks Salar to marry her so that her family will not be able to force her. Salar helps her and marries her, but soon after loses contact with her. Imama finds a sanctuary under Sibte Ali and his family. She changes her name and completes her studies and starts working in a pharmaceutical company in Lahore. She hates Salar because he refused to divorce her as he had promised. Salar later travels to New Haven for education, then he works for the United Nations for some time before permanently settling in Lahore. Salar finally sees the errors of his ways and changes for good. Later, the scene shifts near to Kaaba, where Salar and Imama are sitting together worshipping God.
