Miller, 2015-11-06 Includes 30 Illustrations In this expert survey Air Force Historian Robert Miller explores the Epic story of the Berlin Airlift the confrontation of Democracy and Communism as the world teetered on the brink of the Third World War The Berlin blockade 24 June 1948 12 May 1949 was one of the first major international crises of the Cold War During the multinational occupation of post World War II Germany the Soviet Union blocked the Western Allies railway road and canal access to the sectors of Berlin under allied control The Soviets offered to drop the blockade if the Western Allies withdrew the newly introduced Deutschmark from West Berlin In response the Western Allies organised the Berlin airlift to carry supplies to the people in West Berlin Aircrews from the United States Air Force the British Royal Air Force the Royal Canadian Air Force the Royal Australian Air Force the Royal New Zealand Air Force and the South African Air Force flew over 200 000 flights in one year providing up to 8 893 tons of necessities daily such as fuel and food to the Berliners Neither side wanted a war the Soviets did not disrupt the airlift By the spring of 1949 the airlift was clearly succeeding and by April it was delivering more cargo than had previously been transported into the city by rail On 11 May 1949 the USSR lifted the blockade of West Berlin The Berlin Crisis of 1948 1949 served to highlight competing ideological and economic visions for post war Europe particularly Germany The clash ultimately led to the division of that country into East and West and to the division of Berlin itself
To Save a City Roger G. Miller, 2000-11-01 To Save a City Office of Air Force History, U.S. Air Force, 2015-03-02 The Berlin Crisis of 1948 had its origins in the dark mind of Joseph Stalin Plans to interfere with Western access to Berlin were already hatched and harassment had begun by March 19 1948 when the dictator met with German leaders of the Soviet controlled Party of Socialist German Unity SED During the subsequent discussion German communist leader Wilhelm Pieck warned that the elections scheduled for Berlin in October threatened a disaster for the SED But he argued that humiliation could be prevented if somehow the Western powers could be removed from the city
