critical and aesthetic defence of non place as an act of cultural reclamation Through the restorative properties of photography it re conceptualises the cultural significance of non place The non place is often referred to as wasteland and is usually avoided The sites investigated in this book are located where access and ownership are often ambiguous or in dispute they are places of cultural forgetting Drawing on the author s own photographic research led practice as well as material from photographers such as Ed Ruscha Joel Sternfeld and Richard Misrach this study employs a deliberately allusive intertextuality to offer a unique insight into the contested notions surrounding landscape representation Ultimately it argues that the non place has the potential to reveal a version of England that raises questions about identity loss memory landscape valorisation and perhaps most importantly how we are to arrive at a more meaningful place Picture Theatre
