URBAN LIVELIHOOD

Urban Livelihoods Urban Livelihoods

Carole Rakodi, Tony Lloyd-Jones

Urban Livelihoods Urban Livelihoods:

Urban Livelihoods Tony Lloyd-Jones, Carole Rakodi, 2014-10-14 One of the most promising approaches to poverty reduction in developing countries is to encourage sustainable livelihoods for the poor. This takes account of their opportunities and assets and the sources of their vulnerability. Based on recent and extensive research, this volume thoroughly assesses the value of the livelihoods approach to urban poverty. The book reviews the situation and strategies of the urban poor and identifies the policies and practical programmes that work best. Lasting improvements depend not just on economic development but on political commitment and structures that are responsive to the claims and needs of different groups of poor people. Urban Livelihoods, Institutions and Inclusive Governance in Nairobi Bob

Hendriks, 2025-10-01 This study formulates conditions for sustainable impacts of inclusive and responsive governance through invited spaces offered by the government and claimed spaces created by the poor. The study questions how increased contributions to poverty reduction and improvement of quality of life for Nairobi citizens can be realised in an equitable and responsible way while contributing to development of the city and country. To adequately address this two-sided objective of economic growth and poverty reduction in the contemporary context, the study analyses both processes and impacts; moreover, it examines impacts in terms of quality of life as well as influence and political rights. The study explores the individually claimed spaces of households in Nairobi's slums, the collectively claimed spaces of hybrid mechanisms for access to peri-urban land and tenure, and the invited spaces of city-wide governance networks. Home-based Economic Activities and Caribbean Urban Livelihoods Hebe Verrest, 2007 Poor urban households in the economic south deploy various livelihood activities. One of these is a Home Based Economic Activity (HBEA), e.g. sales of home-made snacks or car maintenance. This study examines the prevalence, organisation and relevance of HBEAs in four neighbourhoods in the Caribbean cities Paramaribo, Suriname, and Port of Spain, Trinidad and Tobago. Recent economic developments in these countries diverge: Suriname recovers slowly from a crisis, while Trinidad and Tobago's economy is buoyant. These economic features, together with local political developments, have produced distinct institutional contexts. This gives ground for a comparison between the two cities. In addition, the study discusses the relevance of currently popular policies on entrepreneurship and micro-finance. The above issues have been assessed through use of multiple quantitative and qualitative methods. The study shows that forty percent of households in the examined neighbourhoods earn money through operating HBEAs. These are mainly operated by women and assist households in improving their livelihoods from a level of survival to a level of security. Most HBEA operators aim at earning additional incomes and reducing vulnerability. Only a small group meets the image of the classic operator who innovates, takes risk, and aims at growth and profit. The two groups organize their HBEA in very distinct ways. Differences between Suriname and Trinidad and Tobago are small. First of all, economic growth has limited impact on assets and vulnerability of low-income groups. Moreover, policies aiming at stimulation of entrepreneurship, such as micro-credit are relevant to classic entrepreneurs and not to the large group of security seeking HBEA operators Urban Livelihoods and Food and Nutrition Security in Greater Accra, Ghana Daniel Maxwell, 2000 This report examines the nature of urban poverty and how it relates to food security and malnutrition in Accra Ghana By exploring the major determinants of food security and nutritional status it develops indicators that are appropriate in an urban context identifies vulnerable groups within the city and suggests policies and programs to improve the lives of the urban poor Adapt du r sum

Livelihood and Urban Poverty Reduction in Ethiopia Tegegne Gebre-Egziabher, 2011 The international development policy agenda is currently dominated by the theme of poverty reduction The theme has been vigorously pursued by multilateral donors such as The United Nations Development Programme UNDP World Bank and others Their assistance has also been tuned to pro poor policy frameworks Poverty however is understood mainly to be a rural phenomenon This is based on the fact that rural poverty is widespread and pervasive and affects a large segment of the population since the majority of people in less developed countries reside in rural areas There is however an increasing trend of urban growth and with it urban poverty all over the world In Ethiopia urban poverty in comparison to rural poverty and national level poverty has increased over time This has necessitated urban poverty reduction as an important area of intervention in urban development and planning The objective of this study is to understand the livelihood situations of the poor in big and small towns and identify the gaps and linkages between the livelihood requirements of the poor and policies at municipal level The study was conducted in nine cities and towns of the country including the capital city Urban Livelihoods Carole Rakodi, Tony Lloyd-Jones, 2014-10-14 One of the most promising approaches to poverty reduction in developing countries is to encourage sustainable livelihoods for the poor This takes account of their opportunities and assets and the sources of their vulnerability Based on recent and extensive research this volume thoroughly assesses the value of the livelihoods approach to urban poverty The book reviews the situation and strategies of the urban poor and identifies the policies and practical programmes that work best Lasting improvements depend not just on economic development but on political commitment and structures that are responsive to the claims and needs of different groups of poor people The Impact of Urban Expansion on the Livelihoods of Peri-Urban Households in Gondar City Endalew Terefe Alene, 2023-07-03 Master's Thesis from the year 2013 in the subject Sociology Habitation and Urban Sociology grade 4.0 language English abstract Recently Gondar city was grown into a metropolitan city status This means that Gondar city is among the Ethiopian urban settings experiencing unprecedented rate of urbanization through expansion expanding in different directions into the surrounding rural areas with fast physical and population growth Therefore the city administration of Gondar has undergone a horizontal expansion pattern However no study has been conducted to investigate the impacts of urban expansion on the livelihoods of peri urban households in Gondar City Administration This study therefore aims to investigate the effects of the expansion program on the livelihoods of the affecting farming households in Gondar city The study employed household survey focused group discussion observation and an in depth interview with key informants to assess the situation The findings were analyzed using both quantitative and qualitative research methods The results of the study revealed that the expansion program was not participatory and the compensation payment implemented for the affected households was not fair and equal in relation with the calculation of their possessed assets

Impact of Urban Expansion on Tenure Security and Livelihoods of Peri-Urban Areas. The Case of Wolaita Soddo Town in Southern Ethiopia Zerihun Lemma, 2020-12-09 Thesis M A from the year 2020 in the subject Geography Earth Science Demographics Urban Management Planning grade 1 Bahir Dar University Institute of Land Administration course Land Administration language English abstract This study is carried out to assess the impact of urban expansion on tenure security and livelihoods in peri urban areas Tenure insecurity and livelihood problems due to urban expansion are a more significant issue in the developing countries than in the developed countries in the urban periphery Ethiopia has created a mounting competition for peri urban land located adjacent to towns and cities by people of diverse backgrounds As a result of these pressures rapid socio economic problems have occurred This paper is aimed to assess the impacts of urban expansion on tenure security and livelihoods on the communities around Wolaita Soddo Town Descriptive research designs as well a qualitative and quantitative research approaches were employed Both probability and non probability sampling methods were used to get potential respondents and the sample size was determined using the sampling distribution of proportion method hence 120 participants were selected 85% 102 male and 15% 18 female participants Based on the collected data the analysis was done using SPSS and Microsoft Excel and the data was presented by different data presentation tools like tables and graphs The results from the study revealed that the expansion of Wolaita Soddo Town has presented constraints and opportunities to people living in peri urban areas About 94 percent of the households responded that there is tenure insecurity Due to having insecurity in their farm their income has decreased Similarly the study revealed that because of the town expansion the peri urban community experienced a multitude of livelihood problems e g loss of assets due to periodic land displacement reduction of farmland and great fear On the other hand the increase in non farm job opportunities and infrastructure development in the studied areas are noteworthy The development of new livelihood activities has culminated in the adoption of both farming and non farming livelihood strategies

The Top Books of the Year Urban Livelihoods Urban Livelihoods The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels enthralling the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has gripped readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Urban Livelihoods Urban Livelihoods : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Pape, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and gripping novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
