We Children Hidden Language:

Zedie and Zoola's Playful Universe: A Practical Guide to Supporting Children with Different Communication Styles at Playtime Vanessa Lloyd-Esenkaya, 2022-12-08 Playtime is essential for children's wellbeing and provides key opportunities to make friends. Yet for some children unstructured play can present real challenges. This beautifully illustrated guide is designed to be used alongside Zedie Zoola's Playtime Cards, a pack of 25 cards containing ideas for fun playground games that draw from Zedie Zoola's Playful Universe and encourage children with different communication styles to play together. Zedie Zoola Light Up the Night, a colourful storybook which draws on themes relating to friendships, neurodiversity, participation and advocacy. The cards and storybook explore the topic of communication differences through engaging characters and games. This accompanying guide offers additional advice for adults to use the cards effectively with helpful contextual information to assist in making playtimes more accessible for children with communication conditions. This is an essential resource for parents, primary school teachers and speech and language therapists as well as anyone looking for new ways to foster an inclusive environment to help children aged 6-9 with different communication styles engage and play with their peers.

We, the Children Victoria McGuinness, 2015-12-21 Welcome to the world of little ones and their secret poetic language. When a five-year-old adopted from China can express her lack of personal value non-verbally in play and name the feeling, the pile of none, it may be time for adults to tune into children's play and non-verbal communication on a deeper level. The metaphorical language of very young children accurately reflects the story of their experiences and relationships, but it is too often dismissed by adults as merely child's play. Parenting plans, weighty court decisions and child investigations that disregard the non-verbal testimony of children can contribute to bending a child's development in the wrong direction, damaging his or her life-long journey. Because of this miscommunication, children are often forced to spend time with the very people who hurt them and endure years of feeling invalidated, invisible and powerless. It is common knowledge that childhood stories shape adult lives. In transforming old, worn-out stories about one's identity, the individual may discover how much happiness may be embraced by re-claiming one's true identity. We, the Children invites the reader to begin the process of becoming empowered by first transforming any story in which he or she is a victim into one in which the reader might emerge feeling fully empowered. Personal empowerment opens the imagination by converting negative messages about oneself learned in childhood into affirmations as to what is good about us now. Ask yourself: what degree of freedom could be obtained?
