Terry C. Jones

We Robots Staying Human In The Age Of Big Data:

We, Robots Curtis White, 2015 In the noble tradition of Jaron Lanier's You Are Not a Gadget Penguin 2011 Curtis White's We Robots takes the radical position that maybe we shouldn't cede every bit of control humanity and decision making to technology and that the techno futurists in our mix have things dangerously backwards What a notion In this sharply argued and rousing book White not only attacks the technology loving establishment but offers a beautiful and essential alternative

Living in a World that Can't Be Fixed Curtis White, 2019-11-05 An inspiring case for practicing civil disobedience as a way of life and a clear vision for a better world full of play caring and human connection In an era of peak global suffering and uncertainty there has never been a more opportune time to re think and re build our entire social order And it has never been more clear that our politicians and authorities will not be up to the task only we can create the world we actually want to live in And we can do it now In Living in a World that Can't Be Fixed Curtis White argues that the only way to save the planet bypass social antagonisms and build communities that actually work for us is through a strong and vital counterculture He shows us the legacy and effectiveness of countercultural movements that existed long before the storied 1960s and imagines the similar sweeping changes we could make today including where we live how we work what we eat and the media we consume White the most inspiringly wicked social critic of the moment Will Blythe Elle reveals how the products of our current so called resistance from Ken Burns to Black Panther rarely offer a meaningful challenge to power and how our loyalty to the American Lifestyle is self defeating and keeps us from making any real social change The world has been turned upside down but thankfully we now have a guide for righting it on our terms Robot Journalism: Can

Human Journalism Survive? Noam Lemelshtrich Latar, 2018-03-09 Artificial Intelligence AI is changing all aspects of communications and journalism as automatic processes are being introduced into all facets of classical journalism investigation content production and distribution Traditional human roles in these fields are being replaced by automatic processes and robots The first section of this book focuses on a discussion of AI the new emerging field of robot journalism and the opportunities that AI limitations create for human journalists The second section offers examples of the new journalism storytelling that empower human journalists using new technologies new applications and AI tools While this book focuses on journalism the discussion and conclusions are relevant to all content creators including professionals in the advertising industry which is a major main source of support for journalism Manufacturing in the Digital Age Mohan

European Insurance Law within the Digital Age Cristina

Poncibò, Piotr Tereszkievicz, 2025-09-26 This edited volume examines how recent technological innovations are transforming European insurance law focusing on critical issues such as transparency information duties fairness and the regulation of insurance contracts for both professional and private policyholders While new business models like digital platforms and robo advisory services are rapidly emerging European law has yet to provide a sufficiently tailored regulatory response The current sectoral framework notably Directive EU 2016/97 on insurance distribution IDD offers a general principle based approach but lacks the specificity needed to effectively address innovative digital insurance distribution models In parallel broader regulatory initiatives such as the EU Artificial Intelligence Act EU AI Act and the Digital Services Act DSA are poised to reshape the digital insurance ecosystem The EU AI Act introduces horizontal rules governing AI systems including those used in automated underwriting risk profiling and robo advisory services thereby directly affecting the design and accountability of algorithmic tools in insurance distribution especially those deemed high risk The DSA imposes new responsibilities on digital platforms with potential implications for InsurTech firms acting as intermediaries or aggregators Additionally there is ongoing uncertainty as to whether existing consumer protection instrument such as the Unfair Contract

Terms Directive 93/13/EEC the Unfair Commercial Practices Directive 2005/29/EC and the Omnibus Directive 2019/2161/EC are sufficient to address the novel risks and challenges posed by digital insurance services. Meanwhile regulatory guidance from supervisory bodies such as EIOPA and national authorities is increasingly addressing InsurTech related legal questions in a more targeted manner. By providing a normative and comparative legal analysis this volume addresses a significant gap in current scholarship. It calls on legal scholars and insurance experts to reassess the role of technology in shaping EU insurance law and to reflect on whether the regulatory principle of technological neutrality remains viable. Ultimately the book argues for an integrated regulatory approach that aligns socio technical governance with the specific demands of insurance law ensuring effective consumer protection in an increasingly digital landscape.
