War Wounds Movie 2015:

Reporting from the Wars 1850 - 2015 Barry Turner, Daniel Barredo Ibáñez, Steven James Grattan, 2019-07-05 From the foundations of the world's first great empires to the empires of today war has preoccupied human civilisation for as many as 4000 years. It has fascinated, horrified, thrilled, confused, inspired and disgusted mankind since records began. Provoking such a huge range of emotions and reactions and fulfilling all the elements of newsworthiness it is hardly surprising that war makes good news. Modern technological advancements such as the camera and television brought the brutality of war into the homes and daily lives of the public. No longer a far away and out of sight affair the public's ability to see what was happening on the frontline changed not only how wars were fought but why they were fought. Even when a war is considered popular the involvement of the press and the weight of public opinion has led to criticisms that have transformed modern warfare almost in equal measure to the changes brought about by weapon technology. War reporting seeks to look beyond the official story to understand the very nature of conflict whilst acknowledging that it is no longer simply good versus evil. This edited volume presents a unique insight into the work of the war correspondent and battlefield photographer from the earliest days of modern war reporting to the present. It reveals how influenced by the changing face of modern warfare the work of the war correspondent has been significantly altered in style, method and practice. By combining historical analysis with experiences of modern day war reporting this book provides an important contribution to the understanding of this complicated profession which will be of interest to journalists, academics and students alike. The Hell of War Comes

Home Owen W. Gilman Jr., 2018-02-09 Owen W. Gilman Jr stresses the US experience of war in the twenty first century and argues that wherever and whenever there is war there will be imaginative responses to it especially the recent wars in Afghanistan and Iraq. Since the trauma of September 11 the experience of Americans at war has been rendered honestly and fully in a wide range of texts: creative nonfiction and journalism, film, poetry and fiction. These responses, Gilman contends, have packed a lot of power and measure up even to World War II's literature and film. Like few other books, Gilman's volume studies these new texts among them Kevin Powers's debut novel The Yellow Birds and Phil Klay's short stories Redeployment along with the films The Hurt Locker, American Sniper and Billy Lynn's Long Halftime Walk. For perspective, Gilman also looks at some touchstones from the Vietnam War. Compared to a few of the big Vietnam books and films, this new material has mostly been read and watched by small audiences and generated less discussion. Gilman exposes the circumstances in American culture currently preventing literature and film of our recent wars from making a significant impact. He contends that Americans' inclination to demand distraction limits learning from these compelling responses to war in the past decade. According to Gilman, where there should be clarity and depth of knowledge we instead face misunderstanding and the anguish endured by veterans betrayed by war and our lack of understanding. Harlequin Heartwarming September
