The Family of Love 1540-1660 Alastair Hamilton, 2025-01-01 Over forty years after its original publication Alastair Hamilton has revised and updated his comprehensive study of the heterodox movement known as the Family of Love Part of the Radical Reformation it has been a source of fascination to scholars earning a reputation for antinomianism alongside its association with some of the greatest humanists of the late sixteenth century They include the philosopher and philologist Justus Lipsius and the greatest typographer of his day Christophe Plantin Hamilton studies the careers and the thought of the two main ideologists of the movement and provides a lucid analysis of the ramifications of the Family of Love not only in the Low Countries but also in France Germany and England Extensively researched Hamilton's detailed study was the first to connect the Family of Love in England with the movement on the continent His book remains a definitive but readable history of a neglected yet significant moment in the history of the Radical Reformation in Europe

Handbook of Dutch Church History Herman J. Selderhuis, 2014-12-10 Herman Selderhuis as editor of this volume has brought together a team of experts resulting in a unique approach since each chapter is co written by a catholic and a protestant author who have all integrated the latest research results Each section begins with a brief historiographical overview The same time ecclesiastical events are always set within a greater framework of political social and cultural developments for which reason each author has taken the liberty to describe its own method The user will find in this book tables diagrams and illustrations Also many source texts are integrated in the narration These texts are intended to bring the described events and people closer to the reader and as it were to let them speak the words The name of the book as Handbook of the church history of the Netherlands immediately brings to mind three problematic complexes which are relevant to its user First there is the nature of a handbook that is intended to be a good tool but also has its limitations it stimulates and necessitates the use of further books Second the area The Netherlands is a plurality and that is also noticeable in its church history for each region town and village has its own church history Third the history of the church for sure is the most important aspect but this history can only be understood if it is described in the context of political and social developments

Physics in Minerva's Academy Steffen Ducheyne, 2025-01-27 This monograph explains how in the aftermath of the battle over Ren Descartes philosophy Newton's natural philosophy found fertile ground at the University of Leiden Newton's natural philosophical views and methods along with their underlying distinctions seamlessly aligned with the University of Leiden's institutional religious policy which urged professors and students to separate theology from philosophy Additionally these views supported the natural philosophical agendas of Herman Boerhaave Willem Jacob's Gravesande and Petrus van Musschenbroek Newton's natural philosophical program was especially useful in the three Leiden professors project of reforming existing disciplines and providing them with epistemic legitimacy Liberty and Religion: Church and State in Leiden's Reformation, 1572-1620 Christine Kooi, 2021-10-25 Leiden was the second largest city of the early modern Dutch Republic This city became officially Protestant in 1572 but it took fifty years before the Reformed Church settled completely into the city's polity and society This was largely due to disagreements between the city's ruling elites and the Reformed leaders about how much independence the church should enjoy This book examines the establishment and early history of the Reformed community of Leiden The evolution of the controversy between church and state is examined from the 1570s during the Dutch Revolt to the early 1620s the beginning of the Dutch Republic's Golden Age It also examines the consequences of this controversy for Leiden's non-Reformed confessions especially Catholics Lutherans and Mennonites and places the case of Leiden in a wider Dutch and European context Doopsgezinde bijdragen ,1995 Pietism, Revivalism and Modernity, 1650-1850 Fred van Lieburg, Daniel Lindmark, 2020-11-30 Pietism can be understood either as a specific German theological tradition emanating from late seventeenth century reformers as Spener and Francke or as a wider range of practical piety characterising early modern movements as Protestant Puritanism and Methodism as well as Catholic Jansenism Trying an inclusive definition an international network programme was set up resulting in a first conference in the Netherlands in 2004 which addressed the question whether Pietism was to be seen as a consequence of or a reaction to confessionalisation in the Reformation era A similar approach was chosen for a second conference held in the Swedish university town of Ume on November 17-18 2005 Should Pietism be perceived as a promoter of or a reaction against modernity Are revivals and awakenings to be seen as inherent components of Pietism Or should they rather be viewed as new sociological phenomena integrated into Pietism on a later stage Which components of pious theology and practice were applied and what function did they serve in clerical and civil discourse Either way how do revivals relate to Pietism and how do they relate to Enlightenment This volume presents the proceedings of an inspiring conference taking a further step in the globalisation of Pietism studies as is demonstrated here in particular by the power of research in the Nordic area Above all this collection of papers helps to understand Pietism and revivalism as attempts to resist the breakthrough of secularizing tendencies in the modern world While doing so they themselves at the same time were modern in building up a counteroffensive of rechristianization using all contemporary means of communication and organization in the public sphere adapting their own traditions to new political and cultural contexts and creating constructions of the religious past Anabaptist/Mennonite Faith and Economics Calvin Wall Redekop, Victor A. Krahn, Samuel J.
