

Section 1: The Development of Constitutional Democracy.

Lesson 1

1. How did thinking about the purpose and role of government change during the Age of Enlightenment (1650-1800)? What new ideas about government emerged during this time period?
It gave us government by consent, representative, democracy, and constitutionalism. Beliefs of individualism, quality, liberty, rights of property, and freedom of religion.

Lesson 1.1

2. What are natural rights?
The right to life, liberty and property, believed to be given by God. No government may take.
3. What did English political scholar John Locke mean in Two Treatises of Government (1689) when he argued that individuals each have a 'natural right' to life, liberty, and property?
Natural rights refer to the fact that we are inherent to our existence, or part of us. It means we are free to exercise them without others permission.
4. What is the state of nature?
A theory on how people might have lived before societies came into existence.
5. What did French philosopher Charles de Montesquieu recommend in The Spirit of the Laws (1748) regarding the division of political power in society?

Contours of African American Politics Georgia A. Persons, 2017-07-05 Contours of African American Politics chronicles the systematic study of African American politics and its subsequent recognition as an established field of scholarly inquiry African American politics emanates from the demands of the prolonged struggle for black liberation and empowerment Hence the study of African American politics has sought to track codify and analyse the struggle that has been mounted and to understand the historic and changing political status of African Americans within American society This two volume set presents a selection of scholarship on African American politics as it appeared in The National Political Science Review from its initial launch in 1989 to the spring of 2009 Represented are contributions from some of the leading scholars of African American politics who have helped to establish and sustain the field The volumes are organised around themes that derive from the unfolding real life drama of African American politics and its subsequent scholarly treatment The result is a window into the political efforts that meld the historically disparate strands of black political expressions into a reconstructed and strategically nimble electoral based mass mobilisation necessary for optimising the impact of the African American vote Sections in the volumes also chronicle the evolution of the National Conference of Black Political Scientists as a professional organisation The two volumes illuminate a pivotal epoch in black political empowerment and provide a context for the future of black politics
