Johansson, Anand Prabhakar Patwardhan, Nebojša Nakićenović, Luis Gomez-Echeverri, 2012-08-27 Independent scientifically based integrated policy relevant analysis of current and emerging energy issues for specialists and policymakers in academia industry government A.L.A. Catalog American Library Association, 1904 Integrated Assessment of Sustainable Energy Systems in China, The China Energy Technology Program B. Eliasson, Y. Lee, 2012-12-06 The purpose of the China Energy Technology Program CETP has been to take a holistic view of electricity generation in China with special emphasis on the economic and environmental impact of technology The program is a collaborative effort involving industry as leader and manager of the program researchers from academia and national research institutes and the stakeholders users or planners of the electricity market A power plant no matter of what kind is not a solitary unit which may be considered independently from its environment Modern society has been built on easy access to power it is now asking for environmentally clean power Clean power is the pathway that will lead to sustainability an extension of the concept of an environmentally clean future Progress toward a sustainable technical solution must include an evaluation of the environmental economic and societal impact of electrical power generation To achieve the goals of the CETP program we wanted to go beyond what had been done in similar programs in the past Its organizers wanted the program not only to evaluate the overall impact of electricity generation but also do it in such a way that program results could be applied and adapted to different circumstances including countries other than China For this purpose we have developed a methodology and presented it on a DVD disc which the reader will find inside the back cover of this book The methodology is conceived to allow insights into the function of the program on various levels A.
