Weird Realism Lovecraft And Philosophy:

Weird Realism Graham Harman, 2012-09-28 As Holderlin was to Martin Heidegger and Mallarme to Jacques Derrida so is H P Lovecraft to the Speculative Realist philosophers Lovecraft was one of the brightest stars of the horror and science fiction magazines but died in poverty and relative obscurity in the 1930s In 2005 he was finally elevated from pulp status to the classical literary canon with the release of a Library of America volume dedicated to his work The impact of Lovecraft on philosophy has been building for more than a decade Initially championed by shadowy guru Nick Land at Warwick during the 1990s he was later discovered to be an object of private fascination for all four original members of the twenty first century Speculative Realist movement In this book Graham Harman extracts the basic philosophical concepts underlying the work of Lovecraft yielding a weird realism capable of freeing continental philosophy from its current soul crushing impasse Abandoning pious references by Heidegger to Holderlin and the Greeks Harman develops a new philosophical mythology centered in such Lovecraftian figures as Cthulhu Wilbur Whately and the rat like monstrosity Brown Jenkin The Miskatonic River replaces the Rhine and the Ister while Holderlin s Caucasus gives way to Lovecraft s Antarctic mountains of madness

Bell, 2025-02-28 This edited volume identifies and analyses the Eco Weird as an interdisciplinary theoretical tool for engaging in fictional philosophical filmic and ludic texts It is the first volume to engage in the study of the Eco Weird which is a developing field at the intersection of environmental thought and Weird fiction broadly construed to include literature games films art and television shows The Eco Weird has intersections with other literary and scholarly fields including horror studies game studies phenomenology literary criticism and eco criticism but provides a unique set of tools to engage both its texts and the ongoing environmental crises of climate change environmental justice pollution and more The Weird and the Eerie Mark Fisher, 2017-01-31 A noted cultural critic unearths the weird the eerie and the horrific in 20th century culture through a wide range of literature film and music references from H P Lovecraft and Daphne Du Maurier to Stanley Kubrick and Christopher Nolan What exactly are the Weird and the Eerie Two closely related but distinct modes and each possesses its own distinct properties Both have often been associated with Horror but this genre alone does not fully encapsulate the pull of the outside and the unknown In several essays Mark Fisher argues that a proper understanding of the human condition requires examination of transitory concepts such as the Weird and the Eerie Featuring discussion of the works of H P Lovecraft H G Wells M R James Christopher Priest Joan Lindsay Nigel Kneale Daphne Du Maurier Alan Garner and Margaret Atwood and films by Stanley Kubrick Jonathan Glazer and Christopher Nolan Giving the Devil His Due Jeffrey Andrew Weinstock, Regina M. Hansen, 2021-10-05 Finalist 2021 Bram Stoker Awards Superior Achievement in Non Fiction The first collection of essays to address Satan's ubiquitous and popular appearances in film Lucifer and cinema have been intertwined since the origins of the medium As humankind's greatest antagonist and the incarnation of pure evil the cinematic devil embodies our own culturally specific anxieties and desires reflecting moviegoers' collective conceptions of good and evil right and wrong sin and salvation Giving the Devil His Due is the first book of its kind to examine the history and significance of Satan onscreen This collection explores how the devil is not just one monster among many nor is he the prince of darkness merely because he has repeatedly flickered across cinema screens in darkened rooms since the origins of the medium Satan is instead a force active in our lives Films featuring the devil therefore are not just flights of fancy but narratives sometimes reinforcing sometimes calling into question a familiar belief system From the inception of motion pictures in the 1890s and continuing into the twenty-first century these essays examine what cinematic representations tell us about the art of filmmaking the desires of the film going public what the cultural moments of the films reflect and the reciprocal influence they exert Loosely organized chronologically by film though some chapters address more than one film this collection studies such classic movies as Faust Rosemary's Baby The Omen Angel Heart The Witch and The Last Temptation of Christ as well as the appearance of the Devil in Disney animation Guiding the contributions to this volume is the overarching idea that cinematic representations of Satan reflect not only the hypnotic powers of cinema to explore and depict the fantastic but also shifting social anxieties and desires that concern human morality and our place in the universe Contributors Simon Bacon Katherine A Fowkes Regina Hansen David Hauka Russ Hunter Barry C Knowlton Eloise R Knowlton Murray Leeder Catherine O'Brien R Barton Palmer Carl H Sederholm David Sterritt J P Telotte Jeffrey Andrew Weinstock New Weird Fiction and the Anthropocene Trang Dang, 2025-07-24 This book explores the development of ecological awareness in Jeff VanderMeer's New Weird novels focusing specifically on the Southern Reach 2014 2024 and Borne 2017 2019 series Examining the New Weird genre as an understudied part of climate fiction the chapters investigate how these texts language content and form develop unique and fascinating ways in which one can think and live more ecologically As the first book length study on VanderMeer's work to contextualize his novels through object oriented ontology OOO an emerging branch of speculative philosophy that investigates how things exist this work enables a uniquely experimental reading of VanderMeer one that accentuates how his work unsettles what is perceived as normal and exposes the bounds of human reasoning as well as how we understand ourselves and our relationships with nonhumans Dang also engages with interdisciplinarity situating VanderMeer's work within cultural discourse around the Anthropocene environmental anthropology prehistoric archeology evolutionary biology and Indigenous studies

Dark Pedagogy Jonas Andreassen Lysgaard, Stefan Bengtsson, Martin Hauberg-Lund Laugesen, 2019-06-28 Dark pedagogy explores how different perspectives can be incorporated into a darker understanding of environmental and sustainability education Drawing on the work of the classic horror author H P Lovecraft and new materialist insights of speculative realism the authors link Lovecraft's tales of the horrible to the current spectres of environmental degradation climate change and pollution In doing so they draw parallels between how humans have always related to the horrible things that are scaled beyond our understanding and how education can respond to an era of climate catastrophe in the age of the Anthropocene A new and darker understanding of environmental and sustainability education is thus developed using the tripartite reaction pattern of denial insanity and death to frame the narrative the book subsequently examines the specific challenges of potentials of developing education and pedagogy for an age of mass extinction This unflinching book will appeal to students and scholars of dark pedagogies as well as those interested in environment and sustainability education

Haunted Nature Sladja Blazan, 2021-12-08 This volume is a study of human entanglements with Nature as seen through the mode of haunting As an interruption of the present by the past haunting can express contemporary anxieties concerning our involvement in the transformation of natural environments and their ecosystems and our complicity in their collapse It can also express a much needed sense of continuity and relationality The complexity of the question who and what gets to be called human with respect to the nonhuman is reflected in these collected chapters which in their analysis of cinematic and literary representations of sentient Nature within the traditional gothic trope of haunting bring together history race postcolonialism and feminism with ecocriticism and media studies Given the growing demand for narratives expressing our troubled relationship with Nature it is imperative to analyze this contested ground Chapter 6 is available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License via link.springer.com New Directions in Children's Gothic Anna Jackson, 2017-03-27 Children's literature today is dominated by the gothic mode and it is in children's gothic fictions that we find the implications of cultural change most radically questioned and explored This collection of essays looks at what is happening in the children's Gothic now when traditional monsters have become the heroes when new monsters have come into play when globalisation brings Harry Potter into China and yaoguai into the children's Gothic and when childhood itself and children's literature as a genre can no longer be thought of as an uncontested space apart from the debates and power struggles of an adult domain We look in detail at series such as The Mortal Instruments Twilight Chaos Walking The Power of Five Skulduggery Pleasant and Cirque du Freak at novels about witches and novels about changelings at the Gothic in China Japan and Oceania and at authors including Celia Rees Frances Hardinge Alan Garner and Laini Taylor amongst many others At a time when the energies and anxieties of children's novels can barely be contained anymore within the genre of children's literature spilling over into YA and adult literature we need to pay attention Weird things are happening and they matter

The Emergence of the Fourth Dimension Mark Blacklock, 2018-04-05 The Emergence of the Fourth Dimension describes the development and proliferation of the idea of higher dimensional space in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries An idea from mathematics that was appropriated by occultist thought it emerged in the fin de siècle as a staple of genre fiction and influenced a number of important Modernist writers and artists Providing a context for thinking of space in dimensional terms the volume describes an active interplay between self fashioning disciplines and a key moment in the popularisation of science It offers new research into spiritualism and the Theosophical Society and studies a series of curious hybrid texts Examining works by Joseph Conrad Ford Madox Ford H G Wells Henry James H P Lovecraft and others the volume explores how new theories of the possibilities of time and space influenced fiction writers of the period and how literature shaped and was in turn shaped by the reconfiguration of imaginative space occasioned by the n dimensional turn A timely study of the interplay between philosophy literature culture and mathematics it offers a rich resource for readers interested in nineteenth century literature Modernist studies science fiction and gothic scholarship Narrating

Nonhuman Spaces Marco Caracciolo, Marlene Karlsson Marcussen, David Rodriguez, 2021-08-18 Recent debates about the Anthropocene have prompted a re negotiation of the relationship between human subjectivity and nonhuman matter within a wide range of disciplines This collection builds on the assumption that our understanding of the nonhuman world is bound up with the experience of space thinking about and with nonhuman spaces destabilizes human scale assumptions Literary form affords this kind of nonanthropocentric experience one role of the critic in the Anthropocene is to foreground the function of space and description in challenging the conventional link between narrative and human inter subjectivity Bringing together New Formalism ecocriticism and narrative theory the included essays demonstrate that literature can transgress the strong and long established boundary of the human frame that literary and narrative scholarship clings to The focus is firmly on the contemporary but with strategic samplings in earlier cultural texts the American transcendentalists modernist fiction that anticipate present day anxieties about the nonhuman while at the same time offering important conceptual tools for working through them Skirmishes Graham Harman, 2020 One of the fifty most influential living philosophers a self promoting charlatan Brian Leiter and the orchestrator of an online orgy of stupidity Ray Brassier In Skirmishes With Friends Enemies and Neutrals Graham Harman responds with flair and wit to some of his best known critics and fellow travelers Pulling no punches Harman gives a masterclass in philosophical argumentation by dissecting analyzing and countering their criticism be it from the Husserlian Heideggerian or Derridean corner At the same time Skirmishes provides an excellent introduction to the hottest debates in Speculative Realism and Object Oriented Ontology a speculative style of philosophy long foreclosed by the biases of mainstream continental thought but which has turned in recent years into one of the most encompassing philosophies of our time with a major impact on the arts humanities and architecture Part One considers four prominent books on speculative realism In dialogue with Tom Sparrow s The End of Phenomenology Harman expresses agreement with Sparrow s critique while taking issue with Lee Braver s transgressive realism as not realist enough Turning to Steven Shaviro s The Universe of Things Harman defends his own object oriented model against Shaviro s brand of process philosophy while also engaging in side debate with Levi R Bryant s distinction between virtual proper being and local manifestations In the third chapter on Peter Gratton's Speculative Realism Problems and Prospects Harman opposes the author's attempt to use Derridean notions of time and difference against Speculative Realism in what amounts to his most extensive engagement with Derrida to date Chapter Four gives us Harman's response to Peter Wolfendale's massive polemic in Object Oriented Philosophy which he shows is based on a failed criticism of Harman's reading of Heidegger and a grumpy commitment to rationalist kitsch Part Two responds to a series of briefer criticisms of object oriented ontology When Alberto Toscano accuses Harman and Bruno Latour of neo monadological and anti scientific thinking Harman responds that the philosophical factors pushing Leibniz into monadology are still valid today When Christopher Norris mocks Harman for seeing merit in the occasionalist school he shows why Norris's middle of the road scientific realism misses the point In response to Dan Zahavi's contention that phenomenology has little to learn from speculative realism Harman exposes the holes in Zahavi's reasoning In a final response Harman gives a point by point answer to Stephen Mulhall's critical foray in the London Review of Books Amidst these lively debates Harman sheds new light on what he regards as the central bias of philosophical modernism which he terms the taxonomical standpoint It is a book sure to provoke lively controversy among both friends and foes of object oriented thought

Imagination and Fantasy in the Middle Ages and Early Modern Time Albrecht

Classen, 2020-08-24 The notions of other peoples cultures and natural conditions have always been determined by the epistemology of imagination and fantasy providing much freedom and creativity and yet have also created much fear anxiety and horror In this regard the pre modern world demonstrates striking parallels with our own insofar as the projections of alterity might be different by degrees but they are fundamentally the same by content Dreams illusions projections concepts hopes utopias dystopias desires and emotional attachments are as specific and impactful as the physical environment This volume thus sheds important light on the various lenses used by people in the Middle Ages and the early modern age as to how they came to terms with their perceptions images and notions Previous scholarship focused heavily on the history of mentality and history of emotions whereas here the history of pre modern imagination and fantasy assumes center position Imaginary things are taken seriously because medieval and early modern writers and artists clearly reveal their great significance in their works and their daily lives This approach facilitates a new deep structure analysis of pre modern culture

Contemporary Narrative and the Spectrum of Materiality Marco Caracciolo, 2023-07-04 How do physical things differ from non things human subjects animals abstract ideas or processes Those questions which are as old as philosophy itself have inspired contemporary debates in ecocriticism thing theory and in the interdisciplinary field of new materialism This book argues that contemporary narrative is well placed to map out and work through the spectrum of the material and the philosophical questions that underlie it This is because narrative does not resolve the tensions at the heart of conceptions of materiality but rather reframes them envisioning their implications and exploring their relevance to concrete contexts of human interaction This monograph is structured around a number of novels experimental fiction films and video games that imagine the inherent agency of things but also interrogate the affective and ethical significance of materiality in human terms Its aim is to demonstrate the power of formal narrative analysis to foster conceptually and ethically sophisticated ways of thinking about thingness in times of ecological crisis that is times in which stuff can no longer be taken for granted

Weirding Landscapes Vesa-Pekka Herva, Aki Hakonen, Roger Norum, Oula Seitsonen, Markus Fjellström, 2025-03-28 This open access book investigates human environment relations in the context of the anthropocenic Arctic Through an archaeological and anthropological study of landscape it wields weirding a creative mode of engagement with the world as a means of coming to terms with the stranger experiential dimensions of a planet populated by diverse non human entities often bearing monstrous characteristics Such entities are exemplified by climate change itself at once human induced and a force of its own volition that maintains an elusive presence as a co inhabitant of the Anthropocene The book focuses on the landscape of Ritni ohkka a fjell in S pmi Finnish Lapland Ritni ohkka is erstwhile home to a diminutive glacier whose weird anomalous characteristics crowned the fjell until it several years ago melted into history Taking a broadly autoethnographic approach it considers perceptions of and affective experiences in this rough and relatively remote otherworldly environment discussing diverse ways of encountering and relating to the Arctic in the context of scientific fieldwork

Fear of Aging João Paulo Guimarães, 2025-02-27 In the genre of horror elderly people are often used as a trope to evoke both a fear of death and a fear of aging Old age is therefore equated with bodily mental or social decline The contributors of this book investigate what exactly we are afraid of when we posit old age as a source of horror The aim is to harness the thrills and pleasures of horror to think about how quality of life can be improved in old age and how elderly people can be better integrated in our ever fearful and suspicious societies

Garcian Meditations Jon Cogburn, 2017-03-08 The publication of Form and Object A Treatise on Things by Tristan Garcia Prix de Flore winning novelist philosopher

essayist and screenwriter is a genuine event in the history of philosophy. Situating this event within classical, modern and contemporary dialectical space, Jon Cogburn evaluates Garcia's metaphysics, differential ontology and militant anti-reductionism through a series of seemingly incompatible oppositions: substance/process, analysis/dialectic, simple/whole and discovery/creation. Cogburn also includes a critical assessment of the consequences of Garcia's philosophy, the various unresolved problems in his treatise and the future prospects of speculative metaphysics.
