When Species Meet By Donna J Haraway Nov 26 2007:

When Species Meet Donna J. Haraway, 2013-11-30 In 2006 about 69 million U S households had pets giving homes to around 73.9 million dogs 90.5 million cats and 16.6 million birds and spending more than 38 billion dollars on companion animals As never before in history our pets are truly members of the family But the notion of companion species knotted from human beings animals and other organisms landscapes and technologies includes much more than companion animals In When Species Meet Donna J Haraway digs into this larger phenomenon to contemplate the interactions of humans with many kinds of critters especially with those called domestic At the heart of the book are her experiences in agility training with her dogs Cayenne and Roland but Haraway's vision here also encompasses wolves chickens cats baboons sheep microorganisms and whales wearing video cameras From designer pets to lab animals to trained therapy dogs she deftly explores philosophical cultural and biological aspects of animal human encounters In this deeply personal yet intellectually groundbreaking work Haraway develops the idea of companion species those who meet and break bread together but not without some indigestion A great deal is at stake in such meetings she writes and outcomes are not guaranteed There is no assured happy or unhappy ending socially ecologically or scientifically There is only the chance for getting on together with some grace Ultimately she finds that respect curiosity and knowledge spring from animal human associations and work powerfully against ideas about human exceptionalism

The Animal Game Daniel E. Bender, 2016-11-07 Tracing the global trade and trafficking in animals that supplied U S zoos Daniel Bender shows how Americans learned to view faraway places through the lens of exotic creatures on display He recounts the public's conflicted relationship with zoos decried as prisons by activists even as they remain popular centers of education and preservation

Interpreting Meat Teddy Duncan, Jr., 2024-12-27 Meat is the essential object dislodged in human animal relations in its commonplace everyday ubiquity and distanced violence it defies the innocuous or protective paternalistic stance that we ordinarily take towards animals Through looking at meat's status as a fundamental and visceral part of human animal relations particularly its commodification and consumption this book exhibits how animals fit into human discursive practices and how this discursive position determines our perspective of animals and subsequently our treatment of them Modernity is a distinct stage of meat production and accordingly the meat commodity must be examined in all its contemporary specificity as an economic linguistic philosophical psychoanalytic and material object Using theoretical prisms that have been largely overlooked in animal studies such as Marxian analysis and Lacanian psychoanalysis and rejecting popular approaches such as analogical thinking and effacement of human animal difference this book offers new insights into the meat commodity and new ways to orient ourselves towards animal life and death

Transhumanism Andrew Pilsch, 2017-08-15 Transhumanism posits that humanity is on the verge of rapid evolutionary change as a result of emerging technologies and increased global consciousness However this insight is dismissed as a naive and controversial reframing of posthumanist thought having also been vilified as the most dangerous idea in the world by Francis Fukuyama In this book Andrew Pilsch counters these critiques arguing instead that transhumanism's utopian rhetoric actively imagines radical new futures for the species and its habitat Pilsch situates contemporary transhumanism within the longer history of a rhetorical mode he calls evolutionary futurism that unifies diverse texts philosophies and theories of science and technology that anticipate a radical explosion in humanity's cognitive physical and cultural potentialities By conceptualizing transhumanism as a rhetoric as opposed to an obscure group of fringe figures he explores the intersection of three major paradigms shaping contemporary Western intellectual life cybernetics evolutionary biology and spiritualism In analyzing this collision his work traces the belief in a digital evolutionary and collective future through a broad range of texts written by theologians and mystics biologists and computer scientists political philosophers and economic thinkers conceptual artists and Golden Age science fiction writers Unearthing the long history of evolutionary futurism Pilsch concludes allows us to more clearly see the novel contributions that transhumanism offers for escaping our current geopolitical bind by inspiring radical utopian thought

The Routledge Companion to Gender and Animals Chloë Taylor, 2024-05-31 The Routledge Companion to Gender and Animals is a diverse and intersectional collection which examines human and more than human animal relations as well as the interconnectedness of human and animal oppressions through various lenses Comprising fifty chapters the book explores a range of debates and scholarship within important contemporary topics such as companion animals hunting agriculture and animal activist strategies It also offers timely analyses of zoonotic disease pandemics mass extinction and the climate catastrophe using perspectives including feminist critical race anti colonial critical disability and masculinities studies The Routledge Companion to Gender and Animals is an essential reference for students in gender studies sexuality studies human animal studies cultural studies sociology and environmental studies

Someone Else's Face in the Mirror Carla Bluhm, Nathan Clendenin, 2009-04-30 In 2005 surgeons in France removed part of the face from a cadaver and grafted it onto the head of a 38 year old woman grossly disfigured by a dog attack Three years later in December 2008 surgeons at the Cleveland Clinic announced they had performed the first U S face transplant Although modern culture is accustomed to pushing medicine and the human body beyond all limits the world's first partial face transplant and the seven that have followed have caused a stir that still reverberates globally This book begins with the story of Isabelle Dinoire the recipient of the first face transplant and chronicles her surgery and battles with tissue rejection Its scope widens with a look at how surgical teams including three U S transplant teams are in a global race to perform the first full face transplant and at how medical history has led up to this point with prior successful transplants ranging from body parts as simple as cornea to those as neurologically complicated as the heart a hand and a penis The most novel among these surgeries the face transplant conjures up particular and expansive psychological issues Authors Bluhm and Clendenin show how transplant recipients struggle with functional issues including a lifetime of anti rejection drugs a danger highlighted by the recent death of the second face transplant patient in China But just as challenging in the case of face transplant is the psychological effect on and potential threat to identity Who are you if suddenly your face or a significant portion of it is not what you were born with What is it like to look in the mirror and see a face that is not the one you have always had Dinoire lamented It will never be me That statement is an absolute simplification of the identity issues a face transplant can create explain the authors Bluhm and Clendenin show how across history and media humankind via medicine literature film and other media has dreamed of a day when face transplants would be possible With so many disfigurements occurring among the military in Iraq and experimental face transplants too expensive for implementation in the private sector it is likely that the U S military will take the reins and further face transplant techniques as quickly as possible to serve injured personnel Narrating the
