Cognitive Human Neuroscience Sandro Misciagna, 2025-07-23 Cognitive neuroscience is a modern science that studies the functioning of cognitive processes in relation to the specific neural mechanisms by which they occur in the brain and any impairment of these mechanisms. Examples of human neurocognitive domains are complex attention, executive functions, memory, language, visual perception, praxis, and social cognition. Neurocognition studies the functioning of these processes, including cognitive assessment, cognitive dysfunctions, and potential rehabilitation options often resulting from neurological or psychiatric pathologies. This book is a collection of papers written by multiple authors and experts in cognitive neuroscience, providing an update on theoretical approaches, instruments, and methodologies for cognitive assessment, as well as aspects that have the potential for neuroprotection in human diseases characterized by cognitive impairment. Digital Media and Social

Islamic Finance Nadia Mansour, Lorenzo Bujosa, 2024-04-09. This volume discusses the new trends in law and regulation in Islamic finance. Islamic finance is a particular component of the global financial system and is very different from secular finance. To understand the development of Islamic finance, it is important to place it in the context of financial globalization. Islamic finance is a new force in the contemporary world financial system and is present in more than a hundred countries. The current generation of Muslim economic power is crowding into the world's financial currents with trillions in liquidity and is growing at a high rate of 10-15% per year. Islamic finance is coming into focus and is not confined to Islamic countries but is present in every larger Muslim community, which means that it cannot be isolated from the effects of financial globalization. This edited volume discusses the effects of global financial transactions in Islamic finance and how it impacts its law and regulation.
