What's Cooking Mom? Narratives about Food and Family Tanya M. Cassidy, 2015-12-01 What's Cooking Mom offers original and inventive narratives including auto ethnographic discussions of representations discourses and practices about and by mothers regarding food and families These narratives discuss the multiple strategies through which mothers manage feeding themselves and others and how these are shaped by international and regional food politics by global and local food cultures and by their own ethical values and preference as well as by those of the ones they feed What's Cooking, Mom? Tanya M. Cassidy, Florence Pasche Guignard, 2015 What's Cooking Mom offers original and inventive narratives including auto ethnographic discussions of representations discourses and practices about and by mothers regarding food and families When it comes to food choices or lack thereof mothers stand at the intersection of several strong and sometimes conflicting forces and interests for instance those in the food industry and public health policies Daily decisions about food are usually thought of in a Western context as a matter of personal choice and private matter but as the chapters in this volume show there are important cross cultural variations associated with these issues With diverse global and comparative cross cultural narratives this volume is posed to offer important literary and ethnographic perspectives These narratives discuss the multiple strategies through which mothers manage feeding themselves and others and how these are shaped by international and regional food politics by global and local food cultures and by their own ethical values and preference as well as by those of the ones they feed Many of these mothers ask themselves and others How will I feed my child but often also have to consider the question What should we eat or avoid consuming The answers to these questions make for fascinating and sometimes sad stories that anyone interested in maternal considerations about consumption and family will find invaluable Mothers and Food: Negotiating Foodways from Maternal Perspectives Pasche Florence Guignard, 2016-03-01 From multidisciplinary perspectives this volume explores the roles mothers play in the producing purchasing preparing and serving of food to their own families and to their communities in a variety of contexts By examining cultural representations of the relationships between feeding and parenting in diverse media and situations these contributions highlight the tensions in which mothers get entangled They show mothers agency or lack thereof in negotiating the environmental material and economic reality of their feeding care work while upholding other ideals of taste nutrition health and fitness shaped by cultural norms The contributors to Mothers and Food go beyond the normative discourses of health and nutrition experts and beyond the idealistic images that are part of marketing strategies They explore what really drives mothers to maintain or change their family's foodways for better or for worse paying a particular attention to how this shapes their maternal identity Questioning the motto according to which people are what they eat the chapters in this volume show that mothers cannot be categorized simply by how they feed themselves and their family Moving Meals and Migrating Mothers Abdullahi Osman El-Tom, Tanya M Cassidy, 2021-07-30 Moving Meals and Migrating Mothers Culinary cultures diasporic dishes and familial foodways explores the complex interplay between the important global issues of food families and migration We have an introduction and twelve additional chapters which we have organised into three parts Part I Moving Meals Markets and Migrant Mothers Part II Migrating Mothers Performing Identity through Moving Meals Part III Meanings and Experiences of Migrant Maternal Meals Although these parts are not mutually exclusive they are meant to emphasize socio cultural and economic considerations of migration Part I the food itself Part II and families Part III We have a wide geographic representation including Europe Ireland and France the USA Canada New Zealand and Korea In addition we have contributors from all stages of career including full professors as well recent doctoral graduates Overall the contributions are interdisciplinary and therefore use a variety of methodologies although most make use of traditional social sciences methods including interviews and ethnographic observations

Taking the Village Online: Mothers, Motherhood and Social Media Basden Lorin Arnold, 2016-11-01 The rise of social media has changed how we understand and enact relationships across our lives including motherhood The meanings and practices of mothering have been significantly impacted by the availability of communities found via forums blogs and sites like Twitter Facebook and Instagram as well as internet resources that function to inform maternal experience and self concept ex motherhood websites Pinterest or YouTube The village that now contributes to the mothering experience has grown exponentially granting mothers access to interactional partners and knowledge never before available This volume of works explores the impact of social media forms on our cultural understandings of motherhood and the ways that we communicate about the experience and practice of mothering

After the Happily Ever After: Empowering Women and Mothers in Relationships Linda Rose Ennis, 2017-09-01 This book is about the two tiered system and invisible imbalance that operates within the framework of the family It is about the fantasy of the happily ever after which the wedding industry promotes and Western society reinforces Why are we hanging onto this faux happiness at the expense of our future well being Why don t we wonder what happened after they lived happily ever after and if in fact they really do What I hope to achieve by writing this book is to rattle the cage of young brides about to embark on this journey to talk about these issues with their future partners and to set the system up in a more equal way so no one is caught off guard if and when things crumble It will be difficult to achieve this task because no one wants to think about things falling apart before the marriage even begins and most certainly it sours the sweetness of the fantasy of the happily ever after as we know it What we don t realize is that there will be less bitterness and upset for the family especially for the children if we pursue this line of thinking Isn t that the real happily ever after

Food Systems, Health, and Well-being Virginie Zoumenou, 2024-09-28 While the importance of food to health and well being is clear the specific ways in which food systems contribute to individual and community health are not well understood This is a complex issue which requires improving food systems as well as changing mindsets and behaviors of individuals within the food system Many of the food related health problems in the US disproportionately affect children women ethnic minorities and low income people Addressing these problems requires that we understand more about the processes of institutional change structural conditions perceptions and decision making processes The environment itself determines much of what individuals can draw from it Community norms may dictate who has access to food assistance engaged communities may provide more food assistance and may make food resources more easily accessible for the poor In addition consumer and producer attitudes and interests may conflict over some issues surrounding sustainability and health The present volume focuses on food production distribution and consumption and their effects on individual health The text is divided into three parts Part One focuses on the relationship between food systems families health sociodemographic and environmental factors Part Two explores the relationship between food systems food advertisements and community engagement and Part Three discusses current research and interventions toward a more equitable food system

Banking on Milk Tanya Cassidy, Fiona Dykes, 2019-05-28 Banking on Milk takes the reader on a journey through the everyday life of donor human milk banking across the United Kingdom UK and beyond asking questions such as the following Why do people decide to donate How do parents of recipients hear about human milk How does milk donation impact on lifestyle choices Chapters record the practical everyday reality of work in a milk bank by drawing on extensive ethnographic observations and sensitive interview data from donors mothers of recipients and the staff of four different milk banks from across the UK and visits to milk banks across Europe and North America It discusses the ongoing pressures to do with supply demand and distribution An empirically informed ethnography of the contemporary where both biosociality and biopower abound this book includes an exploration of how milk banks evolved from registering wet nurses with hospitals showing how a regulatory culture of medical authority began to quantify and organize human milk as a commodity This book is a valuable read for all those with an interest in breastfeeding or organ and tissue donation from a range of fields including midwifery sociology anthropology geography cultural studies and public health

Breasts Across Motherhood: Lived Experiences and Critical Examinations Patricia Drew, 2020-03-01 Breasts are integral to mothers bodies over the life course they can swell droop be judged be aroused lactate be altered be removed A woman's own breasts may be foremost in her mind during some life events only to recede into the background at other times Breasts are complex they are enveloped by larger cultural meanings that go far beyond their mammary gland function and we cannot fully understand breasts without examining the myriad discourses surrounding them Social policies cultural norms and interpersonal interactions all help construct localized breast discourses which in turn shape mothers breast experiences Through examining commonalities and differences over the lifespan we can see that women's breast experiences inform us about the social conditions in which women live their lives

Critical Perspectives on 21st Century Friendship, Polyamory, Polgamy and Platonic Affinity Rachel Bromwich, 2019-10-01 This anthology takes an international and cross cultural approach to discussions about friendship by curating a set of diverse contributions situated in a transnational context These interdisciplinary contributions take friendship seriously as a subject of feminist and legal study and hone in specifically on polyamory polygamy and Platonic affinities considering the sexual and non sexual ties of affect and affinity that link a diverse range of contemporary friendships that exist cross culturally This highly original book teases out commonalities between experiences of affinity that are enmeshed with the differences between social national legal and cultural frameworks that surround these relationships of affinity and affect and troubles forms of government and legal regulation that prohibit or fail to recognize the consensual interdependence connecting diverse forms of human friendship
