Trial Stories in Jewish Antiquity Chaya T. Halberstam, 2025-05-15 What can early Jewish courtroom narratives tell us about the capacity and limits of human justice By exploring how judges and the act of judging are depicted in these narratives Trial Stories in Jewish Antiquity Counternarratives of Justice challenges the prevailing notion both then and now of the ideal impartial judge As a work of intellectual history the book also contributes to contemporary debates about the role of legal decision making in shaping a just society Chaya T Halberstam shows that instead of modelling a system in which lofty inaccessible judges follow objective and rational rules ancient Jewish trial narratives depict a legal practice dependent upon the individual judge s personal relationships reactive emotions and impulse to care Drawing from affect theory and feminist legal thought Halberstam offers original readings of some of the most famous trials in ancient Jewish writings alongside minor case stories in Josephus and rabbinic literature She shows both the consistency of a counter tradition that sees legal practice as contingent upon relationship and emotion and the specific ways in which that perspective was manifest in changing times and contexts

Global Forensic Cultures Ian Burney, Christopher Hamlin, 2019-05-21 Essays explore forensic science in global and historical context opening a critical window onto contemporary debates about the universal validity of present day genomic forensic practices Contemporary forensic science has achieved unprecedented visibility as a compelling example of applied expertise But the common public view that we are living in an era of forensic deliverance one exemplified by DNA typing has masked the reality that forensic science has always been unique problematic and contested Global Forensic Cultures aims to rectify this problem by recognizing the universality of forensic questions and the variety of practices and institutions constructed to answer them Groundbreaking essays written by leaders in the field address the complex and contentious histories of forensic techniques Contributors also examine the co evolution of these techniques with the professions creating and using them with the systems of governance and jurisprudence in which they are used and with the socioeconomic political racial and gendered settings of that use Exploring the profound effect of location temporal and spatial on the production and enactment of forms of forensic knowledge during the century before CSI became a household acronym the book explores numerous related topics including the notion of burden of proof changing roles of experts and witnesses the development and dissemination of forensic techniques and skills the financial and practical constraints facing investigators and cultures of forensics and of criminality within and against which forensic practitioners operate Covering sites of modern and historic forensic innovation in the United States Europe and farther flung imperial and global settings these essays tell stories of blood poison corpses tracking persons and attesting documents truth making egregious racism and sinister surveillance Each chapter is a finely grained case study Collectively Global Forensic Cultures supplies a historical foundation for the critical appraisal of contemporary forensic institutions which has begun in the wake of DNA based exonerations Contributors Bruno Bertherat Jos Ram n Bertomeu S nchez Binyamin Blum Ian Burney Marcus B Carrier Simon A Cole Christopher Hamlin Jeffrey Jentzen Projit Bihari Mukharji Quentin Trais Pearson Mitra Sharafi Gagan Preet Singh Heather Wolffram
