Trinity College Library Dublin A History Peter Fox:

Trinity College Library Dublin Peter Fox, 2014-04-24 This is the first comprehensive scholarly history of Trinity College Library Dublin It covers the whole 400 years of the Library's development from its foundation by James Ussher in the seventeenth century to the electronic revolution of the twenty first century Particular attention is given to the buildings and to the politics involved in obtaining funding for them as well as to the acquisition of the great treasures such as the Book of Kells and the libraries of Ussher Claudius Gilbert and Hendrik Fagel An important aspect is the comprehensive coverage of legal deposit from the beginning of the nineteenth century viewed for the first time from the Irish perspective The book also draws parallels with the development of other libraries in Dublin and with those of the universities of Oxford and Cambridge and features throughout the individuals who influenced the Library's development librarians politicians readers book collectors and book thieves Essays on the History of Trinity College Library, Dublin Anne Walsh, Vincent Kinane, 2000

Commissioned with the purpose of laying the groundwork for a full scale comprehensive history of the 400 year old library these 14 contributions explore core historical issues such as the buildings the staff and their conditions of employment the early collections and their book bindings the fun The Oxford History of the Irish Book, Volume IV James H.

Murphy, 2011-09 Volume IV The Irish Book in English 1800 1891 details the story of the book in Ireland during the nineteenth century when Ireland was integrated into the United Kingdom The chapters in this volume explore book production and distribution and the differing of ways in which publishing existed in Dublin Belfast and the provinces The

Oxford History of the Irish Book, Volume III Raymond Gillespie, Andrew Hadfield, 2006-02-02 The Oxford History of the Irish Book is a major new series that charts the development of the book in Ireland from its origins within an early medieval manuscript culture to its current incarnation alongside the rise of digital media in the twenty first century Volume III The Irish Book in English 1550 1800 contains a series of groundbreaking essays that seek to explain the fortunes of printed word from the early Renaissance to the end of the eighteenth century The essays in section one explain the development of print culture in the period from its first incarnation in the small area of the English Pale around Dublin dominated by the interests of the English authorities to the more widespread dispersal of the printing press at the close of the eighteenth century when provincial presses developed their own character and style either alongside or as a challenge to the dominant intellectual culture Section two explains the crucial developments in the structure and technical innovation of the print trade the role played by private and public collections of books and the evidence of changing reading practices throughout the period The third and longest section explores the impact of the rise of print Essays examine the effect that the printed book had on religious and political life in Ireland providing a case study of the impact of the French Revolution on pamphlets and propaganda in Ireland the transformations illustrated in the history of historical writing as well as in literature and the theatre through the publication of play texts for a wide audience Others explore the impact that print had on the history of science and the production of foreign language books The volume concludes with an authoritative bibliographical essay outlining the sources that exist for the study of the book in early modern Ireland This is an authoritative volume with essays by key scholars that will be the standard guide for many years to come International Dictionary of Library Histories
