Trips Pct And Global Patent Procurement:

Trips, PCT and Global Patent Procurement Markus Nollf, 2001-07-04 The Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights TRIPS Agreement has established a global patent system requiring a high standard of patent protection This text discusses the issues surrounding the establishment of a world patent office or its equivalent

Cross-border Enforcement of Patent Rights Marta Pertegás Sender, 2002 The enforcement of patent rights raises complex and from a private international law perspective unique difficulties Since intellectual property practitioners started to seek the consolidation of cross border patent disputes the interplay of private international rules has led to drastic changes in patent litigation across Europe This book analyses in detail both the European rules on jurisdiction the Brussels Convention and its successors and the choice of law rules as they apply to cross border patent disputes and will be essential reading for both intellectual property lawyers and international commercial litigation specialists At the jurisdictional stage the basic question is whether the current jurisdictional framework provides a basis for the concentration of related litigation For jurisdictional purposes patent enforcement is a tort Accordingly cross border patent enforcement attempts may generally be undertaken at the forum of the defendant's domicile the place of the tort and as far as provisional measures are concerned another forum with a sufficient connection to the dispute On the other hand the application of the current jurisdictional framework to international patent infringement disputes leads to significant difficulties such as the pre-emptive effect of proceedings pending abroad or the jurisdictional consequences of a patent validity challenge At the choice of law stage this book provides a comparative overview of the rather unexplored issues arising in multinational patent enforcement De lege ferenda it seems that in view of the territorial nature of patents a distributive application of the law of the protecting State lex loci protectionis appears to be the most consistent choice of law rule

Patent Exhaustion and International Trade Regulation Santanu Mukherjee, 2023-03-13 This book dives into the legal and economic rationale of patent exhaustion studying its evolution from the beginning in Germany UK and USA to Japan and 10 developing countries The author also analyses exhaustion under TRIPS GATT GATS and major regional agreements including the EU before assessing the interface of patent exhaustion with competition policy The book also addresses public policy concerns of Least developed and developing countries linked to their IPR challenges as IP users It concludes that an appropriate exhaustion mode under relevant legal measures would protect patents while also restraining patents to become non-tariff barriers The open access publication of this book has been published with the support of the Swiss National Science Foundation

WTO Peter-Tobias Stoll, Jan Busche, Katrin Arend, 2009 This commentary covers the entire TRIPS agreement It adopts a comparative perspective in highlighting related and similar provisions and developments in other international and regional instruments It is designed to meet the needs both of the WTO and the intellectual property community

Intellectual Property in the Global Trading System Wei Shi, 2008-07-20 After exploring multifaceted issues of IPR enforcement this book argues that the problems with it are not an actual outcome of Confucian philosophy and to steal a book is not an elegant offence This book demonstrates that counterfeiting and piracy are inevitable consequences of inadequate economic development It goes on to state that they are a by product of a unique set of socioeconomic crises that have their origin in a dysfunctional institutional regime Journal of the Patent and Trademark Office Society ,2005 25 Years of the TRIPS Agreement Christopher Heath,Anselm Kamperman Sanders,2021-12-17 When the TRIPS Agreement was concluded in 1994 many saw it as embodying a new gold standard of intellectual property protection that not only reformed the Paris and Berne Conventions but also made further IP agreements unnecessary Although this optimistic vision has eroded obligations to protect IP rights can now be found in trade agreements and can be enforced before domestic courts and investor state tribunals the Agreement continues to pervade trends and developments in international law not only in IP but in trade law also This comprehensive commentary on the past present and future of the Agreement focuses on its influence on key topics in IP as well as on enforcement and dispute resolution The editors have assembled a group of renowned IP law practitioners and academics who taking each area of IP law in turn show the extent to which TRIPS provisions have survived expanded or been supplanted by other bodies Their analysis covers the different IP rights addressed in the TRIPS Agreement copyrights trade marks geographical indications patents data protection and enforcement both in historical perspective and in their development in the last 25 years An additional three chapters cover most favoured nation obligations in regard of subsequent free trade agreements how societal interests alter the interpretation of TRIPS obligations the judicial role in the WTO panels and Appellate Body minimum standards and reduction of flexibilities in IP policy relationship of WTO TRIPS with other international agreements As intellectual property becomes more pervasive in society than ever before and as both technology related to the use of IP and the way protected works are consumed have changed beyond recognition over the past 25 years jurists academics and practitioners in IP and trade law will welcome this unique opportunity to test the true scope of national sovereignty in the interpretation of intellectual property rights Intellectual Property & Free Trade Agreements Christopher Heath,Anselm Kamperman Sanders,2007-12-11 Intellectual Property and Free Trade Agreements presents the papers of the sixth IP conference organised by the Macau Institute of European Studies IEEM on intellectual property law and the economic challenges for Asia The objective of the conferences is to provide up to date information on developments in global intellectual property law and policy and their impact on regional economic and cultural development The current volume deals with the implications of free trade agreements for the international framework of intellectual property law a topic of enormous economic and legal importance given the increasing number of free trade agreements in force or under negotiation Journal of World Trade ,2001-08 The Cuban Cure S. M. Reid-Henry,2010-12-15 After Fidel Castro came to power in 1959 his second declaration after socialism was that Cuba would become a leader in international science In biotechnology he would be proven right and today Cuba counts a meningitis B vaccine and cutting edge cancer therapies to its name But how did this politically and geographically isolated country make such impressive advances Drawing on a unique ethnography and blending the insights of anthropology sociology and geography The Cuban Cure shows how Cuba came to compete with U S pharmaceutical giants despite a trade embargo and crippling national debt In uncovering what is distinct about Cuban biomedical science S M Reid Henry examines the forms of resistance that biotechnology research in Cuba presents to the globalization of western models of scientific culture and practice He illustrates the epistemic social and ideological clashes that take place when two cultures of research meet and how such interactions develop as political and economic circumstances change Through a novel argument about the intersection of socioeconomic systems and the nature of innovation The Cuban Cure presents an illuminating study of politics and science in the context of globalization Gene justified when they are now used to suppress rather than promote research and development in the life sciences Luigi Palombi demonstrates that patents are about inventions and not isolated biological materials which consequently have no bona fide purpose in the innovations of biotechnological science This book will be important reading for anyone who has an interest in the role that patents have played in economic development particularly historians economists and scientists It will also be of great interest to law academics lawyers judges and policymakers Principles of Patent Law Donald S.
