What Is Enlightenment? James Schmidt, 1996-09-08 This collection contains the first English translations of a group of important eighteenth century German essays that address the question What is Enlightenment The book also includes newly translated and newly written interpretive essays by leading historians and philosophers which examine the origins of eighteenth century debate on Enlightenment and explore its significance for the present In recent years critics from across the political and philosophical spectrum have condemned the Enlightenment for its complicity with any number of present day social and cultural maladies It has rarely been noticed however that at the end of the Enlightenment German thinkers had already begun a scrutiny of their age so wide ranging that there are few subsequent criticisms that had not been considered by the close of the eighteenth century Among the concerns these essays address are the importance of freedom of expression the relationship between faith and reason and the responsibility of the Enlightenment for revolutions Included are translations of works by such well known figures as Immanuel Kant Moses Mendelssohn Johann Gottlieb Fichte and Johann Georg Hamann as well as essays by thinkers whose work is virtually unknown to American readers These eighteenth century texts are set against interpretive essays by such major twentieth century figures as Max Horkheimer Jürgen Habermas and Michel Foucault

The Cambridge History of Eighteenth-century Philosophy Knud Haakonssen, 2006 This two volume set presents a comprehensive and up to date history of eighteenth century philosophy The subject is treated systematically by topic not by individual thinker school or movement thus enabling a much more historically nuanced picture of the period to be painted

History of Universities: Volume XXXVI / 2 Mordechai Feingold, 2024-01-07 This book contains the customary mix of learned articles and book reviews on the topic of the history of higher education. Chapters cover topics such as professionalisation of the theology curriculum at the University of Louvain 1432-1600, Thomas Hobbes at the University of Oxford, intellectual culture in a seventeenth-century Parisian convent, and Anglican moral theology and the reception of John Locke's essay Concerning Human Understanding. List of members in v. 1. The Evangelical Counter-Enlightenment William R. Everdell, 2021-05-21. This contribution to the global history of ideas uses biographical profiles of 18th-century contemporaries to find what Salafist and Sufi Islam, Evangelical Protestant and Jansenist Catholic Christianity, and Hasidic Judaism have in common. Such figures include Muhammad Ibn Abd al-Wahhab, Count Nikolaus Zinzendorf, Jonathan Edwards, John Wesley, Jean-Jacques Rousseau, and Israel Ba'al Shem Tov. The book is a unique and comprehensive study of the conflicted relationship between the evangelical movements in all three Abrahamic religions and the ideas of the Enlightenment and Counter-Enlightenment. Centered on the 18th century, the book reaches back to the third century for precedents and context and forward to the 21st for the legacy of these movements. This text appeals to students and researchers in many fields including Philosophy and Religion, their histories, and World History, while also appealing to the interested lay reader. The History and Science of Commerce in the Century of Enlightenment Paul Burton Cheney, 2002. Program of the Annual Meeting - American Historical Association American Historical Association, 1997. Some programs include also the programs of societies meeting concurrently with the association. Critical Humanities from India D. Venkat Rao, 2018-03-09. The field of humanities generates a discourse that traditionally addressed the questions of what is proper to man, rights of man, crimes against humanity, human creativity and action, human reflection and performance, human utterance and artefact. The university as a philosophical-political institution transmits this humanist account. This European humanistic legacy, which is little more than Christian anthropology, barely received any questioning from cultures that faced colonialism. In such a context, this volume attempts to unravel the barely secularized heritage of Europe. Derrida's phrase and its fatal consequences in other cultures. The task of Critical Humanities is to explore the ways in which the question of being human along with non-human others today from heterogeneous cultural backgrounds can be undertaken. The future of the humanities teaching and research is contingent upon the risky task of configuring cultural difference from non-European locations. Such a task is inescapable and urgently needed when tectonic cultural upheavals have begun to show devastating effect on planetary coexistence today. It is precisely in such a context that this collection of essays on critical humanities affirms without alibi the urgency of collective reflection and innovative research across the traditional disciplinary and institutional borders and communication systems on the one hand and Asian African and European cultural formations on the other Critical Humanities are at one level little more than communities on the verge critical but whose centuries long survival and resilient creations of cultural and as natural habitats are of deeply enduring significance to affirm the biocultural diversities of living that compose the planet Topical and timely this book will be useful to scholars researchers and teachers of cultural theory literary studies philosophy cultural geography legal studies sociology history performance studies environmental studies caste and communalism studies postcolonial theory India studies and education Studies in Eighteenth-century Culture Syndy M. fruitful tension strategy as seeking rapprochement among the modern and postmodern positions on hotly debated contemporary issues such as subjectivity criticism and the nature of reason Marxism continues to provide critical tools for articulating productive conflict within the postmodernism debates advancing of strategies of critique beyond identity politics toward a more self reflective ideological discussion of the multiple axes of power and oppression in political struggles over democracy In this unique study complex philosophical issues are described lucidly and their relevance for today is established compellingly      Literary Politics Jonathan Ewell, 2008
