Threads Of The Shroud:

The Shroud of Christ Michael Kowalski,2023-06-30 The Shroud of Turin has been the focus of extensive study by historians and researchers since the beginning of the twentieth century It is possibly the world s most studied historical artifact generating a regular flow of new research publications There is however one scientific test that overshadows all other research the 1988 radiocarbon dating This test dated the cloth to the period 1260 1390AD and was given such extensive publicity that most people today no longer accept the Shroud to be a true relic Sadly very few people are aware that this test has been widely criticized for falling short of acceptable scientific standards Similarly most people remain unaware of the wealth of compelling evidence that contradicts the conclusions of that test and supports claims of the Shroud s authenticity This book reveals extracts from secret discussions on dating evidence from the Shroud Science Group a private international forum of Shroud researchers and provides a detailed account of the dating evidence revealed by over a hundred years of research It outlines reasons why the 1988 radiocarbon dating test continues to attract criticism from respected scientists and also describes a series of innovative flax dating techniques which have recently been used measure the age of Shroud material producing results that contradict the radiocarbon date

The Excavations at Ismant al-Kharab Gillian E Bowen,2024-02-29 The adoption of Christianity by the Egyptian populace was well underway by the late third century but evidence for its presence in the archaeological record from the Nile valley is sparse This is due in part to the loss of ancient settlement sites beneath modern cultivation By comparison Ismant al Kharab ancient Kellis in Dakhleh Oasis was abandoned at the end of the fourth century and many of its structures survive intact The villagers moreover left behind a wealth of artefacts and documentation By the late third century some had converted to Christianity and by the early fourth century three churches were built to accommodate their growing numbers The churches afford an unparalleled window into three ecclesiastical complexes that served a single village The Large East Church moreover is the earliest surviving example of a purpose built basilica in Egypt known thus far It provides a better understanding of the development of Egyptian church architecture and has forced a reappraisal of the dates of certain features that were previously attributed to the fifth century The community established three burial grounds Kellis 2 with an estimated 3 500 4 000 graves a funerary church and associated graveyard and in a reused monumental mausoleum Christian cemeteries are known throughout North Africa Europe and Britain but in Egypt few are published in anything but a cursory manner At Kellis 800 graves have been excavated the earliest burials date to the late third century confirming the evidence of an early conversion by some villagers and its rapid expansion thereafter This volume provides the first detailed publication of the churches and Christian burial grounds It incorporates a discussion of the spread of Christianity in Egypt s Southern Oasis drawing upon data from the rich textual documentation from the site The material culture is presented in detail especially the extensive collection of ceramics glass and coins
