Local Identities Fokke Albert Gerritsen, 2003 Gerritsen's study investigates how small groups of people households or local communities constitute and represent their social identity by shaping the landscape around them Examining things like house building and habitation cremation and burial and farming and ritual practice Gerritsen develops a new theoretical and empirical perspective on the practices that create collective senses of identity and belonging An explicitly diachronic approach reveals processes of cultural and social change that have previously gone unnoticed providing a basis for a much more dynamic history of the late prehistoric inhabitants of this region
